

ACTORS' VISIT TO WHITE HOUSE COST $50,000 IS TESTIFIED TO COMMITTEE

Declares Shuberts Offered Actors To La Follette as Publicity Scheme—Reports Show Republicans Near Goal.

Washington, Oct. 29.—The visit of a group of actors, such as called on President Coolidge at the White House was "offered" to the La Follette-Wheeler campaign committee for $50,000, G. L. Gardner, a Washington newspaper correspondent, today told the senate committee investigating campaign expenditures.

SECRETARY FINNEY TESTIFIES AT TRIAL OF OIL LEASE CASE

Harding Approved the Plans of Fall to Compromise, Shown

Los Angeles, Oct. 29.—According to testimony brought out at the government's suit to cancel existing leases to naval oil properties, the late President Harding approved plans of former Secretary of Interior Albert B. Fall to compromise conflicting claims of rival oil companies to portions of the Elk Hills naval reserve No. 1.

Cross-examination of E. C. Finney, assistant secretary of the interior, by Frank J. Gohary, chief defense counsel, revealed the fact that Fall laid all plans for the compromise before President Harding, securing his approval.

MRS. JOHN GALLOWAY DIES AT HOME HERE

Mrs. Emily Hagler Galloway, 62, wife of John H. Galloway, well known Xenia woman, passed away at her home on South Detroit Street, Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Death was due to myocardial, an affection of the heart.

Mrs. Galloway had been ill for about two years, but Monday evening her condition grew critical. Tuesday morning she seemed to rally and death came suddenly.

Mrs. Galloway was born on a farm on the Stone Road, south of Xenia County. She was the daughter of Mary Lyon Hagler and William Leonard Hagler, members of a well known Greene County family.

Her marriage to Mr. Galloway of this city took place June 28, 1893.

Drew and Charlotte Greenwood. He turned down the offer, Gardner said, on the ground the progressives could not afford to pay $50,000 and suggested that the offer be made to the Republicans.

"I guess they accepted it," Gardner said, referring to the visit of Al Jolson and other actors to the White House, under the leadership of Colonel Rhinelander Waldo, president of the Coolidge Non-Partisan League.

Washington, Oct. 29.—Reports to the senate committee investigating campaign contributions show that the Republican campaign fund on Oct. 20 had surpassed $2,700,000 and was steadily approaching the $3,050,000 goal set by Chairman William M. Butler of the Republican national committee.

It is shown by Republican figures that receipts between Oct. 16 and 20 aggregated $628,588. Prior receipts exceeded $2,100,000. Disbursements in the same period were $491,226. The New York headquarters gathered $504,750 during the period, while the Chicago office took in $125,838 at the same time. Disbursements by the Chicago office totaled $420,229; by the New York office $70,997.

The report shows heavy disbursements in Tennessee, where $37,500 was sent in five days. The next largest outlay was in Nebraska, the home state of Governor Charles W. Bryan. Democratic vice presidential nominee, with disbursements of $35,000. Other disbursements were: Cook county, Illinois, $25,000; Iowa, $21,812; Utah, $15,000; Idaho, $10,000; South Dakota, $10,000; Missouri, $3,887; Arizona, $10,000; Montana, $10,000; Washington, $10,000; New Mexico, $10,000; North Dakota, $10,000; Wyoming, $2,500.

The Republican senatorial committee was advanced $15,000 and the Republican congressional committee $50,000.

Some Contributions. John D. Rockefeller is credited with a contribution of $10,000 and John D. Jr., with a similar amount. Other contributions were: Murray, Simon, Daniel and S. R. Guggenheim of New York, $5,000 each; Chauncey M. Depew, $2,000; Joseph R. Grundy, Bristol, Pa., $5,000; John R. Grundy, Philadelphia, $5,000; Joseph E. Widener, Philadelphia, $5,000; Bernard McFadden, New York, $10,000; Owen F. Roberts, New York, $5,000; Elihu Root, New York, $10,000.

F. W. Walsh, attorney for Senator La Follette, charged that many of the witnesses subpoenaed have not appeared. Among them he named Joseph R. Grundy, chairman of the Republican ways and means committee, who was named in Senator La Follette's original "slush" fund charges, who was ordered recalled by the committee.

Caraway instructed the sergeant-at-arms of the senate to compel the witnesses to respond to the summons. He also announced that the last public hearing before election would be held Friday.

At the same time Weymouth Kirkland, representing the Republican national committee, asked that subpoenas be issued for L. E. Sheppard, president of the Order of Railway Conductors, to appear at the Chicago inquiry. He also asked that subpoenas be issued for Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, and other union labor leaders.

Thomas W. White of Boston was called and said he was connected with a local committee engaged in raising funds for the Republican campaign, and that a letter sent out by him produced about $50. Caraway read a letter sent out by the "Calvin Coolidge finance committee." The letter stated "that there is no limit to the amount that can be contributed," and added the contributions would be divided into small amounts.

"Then this committee was going to divide a contribution of $1,000 into 10 parts, with one real man and nine dummies, to get around the law," Senator Caraway remarked.

A letter from E. J. Bliss, president of the Legal Shoe company, pointing out that $500,000 was raised in Massachusetts for the Harding campaign in 1920 and urging a like amount for Coolidge, was read by Walsh.

William L. Mellon, who has charge of raising funds in the "Pittsburgh district," disclosed that Pennsylvania has contributed $620,000 to the Republican campaign fund. Of this amount, the witness said, the "Pittsburgh district" contributed $270,000, and the remainder of the state $350,000.

Drought in Southern Ohio. Cincinnati, Oct. 29.—Barrels, tanks and buckets are being utilized by farmers in southern Ohio to haul water for their personal needs, because of the drought that has affected their water supply since early September. In many instances water must be hauled great distances for both humans and live stock.

Van Camp of Fremont, motorman of the interurban car that struck the automobile of John Baker on the eastern approach to the Cherry street bridge, resulting in the fatal injury of John Baker, Jr., 6 months old.

GOVERNOR AND CRABBE ENGAGE IN HOT COMBAT

Controversy Carried On By Exchange of Wire in Judgeship Case

Columbus, Oct. 29.—Governor Donahy and Attorney General Crabbe are engaged in a sharp controversy over Dean C. Throckmorton, presiding judge of Columbus municipal court.

The verbal combat is being waged over the wires. Crabbe, from Zanesville, questioned Donahy's claim that there had been no scandal in any state department, to his knowledge, during his administration. The attorney general cited the indictment of Throckmorton by the Franklin county grand jury on charges of accepting bribes while assistant chief of the blue sky department, as one instance.

In his reply, Donahy accused Crabbe of being "the only Republican state candidate that is in league with Harry L. Davis to deceive the people and falsify the records. The Republican committee, I am informed, has given up hope of your election." The governor said he had known nothing of the charges on which Throckmorton was indicted until he read them in the newspapers, asserted Crabbe knew he had "never condoned any wrongdoing on the part of any public employee," and said if Throckmorton is found guilty, no scandal attaches to the administration, "because no effort has been made to cover up or protect wrongdoing."

The attorney general asked whether the governor knew "that this indicted official has admitted under oath that he accompanied the vice president of the protected company to a questionable resort on many occasions and that as high as $150 per night was paid the proprietress for the questionable entertainment of the assistant chief of the blue sky law and his friends."

Donahy replied that he knew nothing of Throckmorton's "personal and private conduct, and that he had no knowledge that Throckmorton ever testified concerning it under oath. "Where did he give the testimony?" the governor asked. "It must have been before the grand jury. I was not a member of the grand jury and did not hear the testimony, as you did not hear the testimony before it. I thought grand juries were sworn to secrecy, and I never knew that state attorneys appearing before grand juries were supposed to disclose testimony so given in advance of regular trials before subsequent petit juries."

Donahy declared Throckmorton was not appointed presiding judge of Columbus municipal court after he was indicted, "as you insinuate." The governor added: "Before you quit electioneering, tell the voters of your part as the leader of the majority during the Davis legislature in covering up the coal scandal and protecting the guilty parties, also your assistance to Davis in covering up the resignation of his finance director, purchasing agent and assistants, also your successful attempt as majority leader to smother the investigation of the highway department in the Davis legislature and your part in the unsuccessful attempt to pass the Burns bill to cripple workmen's compensation."

France Recognizes Soviet Government. Paris, Oct. 29.—The Russian soviet government has been officially recognized by France. Negotiations looking toward recognition of Russia by France have been under way for some time, practically since the Herriot government came into office. The question of carlist debts for a time stood in the way, but it finally was agreed that these should be discussed by representatives of the two nations after the French government extended recognition.

A telegram giving the formula of recognition was forwarded to Moscow. The text will be published as soon as a reply is received from the Russian government. France is the first of the big world powers to recognize the soviet government, although the MacDonald government of Great Britain previously had signed a trade agreement with them.

U.S. ATTITUDE IS UNCHANGED

American Girl Heroine of Theatre Disaster

Miss Katherine MacFarland, of Philadelphia, a Near East relief worker in Athens, Greece, was the heroine of the recent theatre disaster there, in which twenty-seven persons were crushed to death in a fire panic. She saved scores of lives by quieting the panic, and then administered first aid to the injured.

NEW CHINESE WAR IS NOW LOOMING AROUND SHANGHAI

London, Oct. 29.—General Wu Pei Fu has arrived at Tien Tsin where he is concentrating troops for an attack against the army of the Christian general, Feng Yu-Hsiang, who holds Peking, according to advices received by the foreign office this afternoon.

Shanghai, Oct. 29.—Marshal Feng Yu Hsiang's occupation of Peking has stirred the native troops in this vicinity. Victorious and defeated soldiers now are divided on new lines, half supporting Feng and half remaining loyal to Wu Pei Fu. Marshal Chi Shieh Yuan, who defeated Lu Yung Hsiang and took Shanghai after stubborn fighting, was a close ally of Wu Pei Fu. Some of his troops have started for Tien Tsin to aid Wu in retaking Peking, which was seized by Feng's Christian troops last week.

It is reported here that Marshal Feng has been assassinated at Peking. Marshal Chi Shieh Yuan, military governor of Kiangsu, announced in a proclamation that the military governors of Kiangsu, Kiangsi, Anhui, Chekiang and Fukien, and virtually the entire Chinese fleet, have decided to support General Wu Pei Fu. The proclamation denounced General Feng Yu Hsiang, the "Christian" general and former governor of Honan province, as a traitor.

HOLT'S PAL ADMITS SLAYING OF SHAKER HEIGHTS POLICEMAN

Cleveland, Oct. 29.—Joseph Prymas is under arrest here charged with the murder of Michael Hahnel, Shaker Heights policeman, 12 days ago. Not only did Prymas confess that he fired the shot in a signed and sworn statement, but he admitted it in a note he left for his "girl," and in a conversation he held with his aged mother, who was summoned by the police.

His arrest, coming just two days after that of his "pal" Albert Holt, was purely by chance. Apparently unable longer to stand the strain when he read of Holt's capture, Prymas drank poison. Persons at his rooming house, hearing groans coming from his room, investigated. They administered antidotes and then called the police. While in a police ambulance Prymas was recognized by Patrolman Clarence May and taken to headquarters. Prymas protested Holt's innocence in the slaying.

American Diplomat Dead. Washington, Oct. 29.—Edward Bell, counsellor of legation and American charge d'affaires in Peking, died suddenly in the Chinese capital, the state department announced. He was one of the experts and secretaries attached to the American delegation at the armament limitation conference in Washington in 1921; and also acted as American observer at the conversations between the Chinese and Japanese representatives in regard to the Shantung question. Bell was born in 1882. Ferdinand Mayer, first secretary of the legation, will take over Bell's duties for the present.

OCTOGENARIAN AND GRANDDAUGHTER HELD

Jeffersonville, Ind., Oct. 29.—A. C. Campbell, 84, and Mattie Walling, 14, are held by the local police. The pair were arrested here just when Alonzo Paddacks, magistrate, spread his hands over them for the "man and wife" line. Mattie is the daughter of Campbell's stepdaughter, Green Walling, the girl's father, wired police that he believed the two elopers were headed here to be married from Long Run, Ky., the girl's home, and asked that they be held. Campbell, who lives at Burlington, Lawrence county, O., was visiting at Walling's home. When he asked permission to marry Mattie and when Walling laughed at the idea, they eloped.

RECOGNITION BY FRANCE TO NOT AFFECT U. S.

President Declines To Comment On Action of French Government

Recognized Now By Nineteen Countries—Hughes Unchanged

Washington, Oct. 29.—Recognition of soviet Russia by France has not changed the attitude of the United States government toward Russia in any way, it was ascertained today in official circles.

While President Coolidge has declined to comment on France's action and state department officials are reticent to discuss the matter at all it has been definitely ascertained that neither the president nor Secretary of State Hughes have changed their minds concerning the resumption of friendly relations with the Russian Bear.

The principal objection of the administration is not that Russia is controlled by the communists, but is based on the assumption that Russia is not sincere in her international relations and will not or cannot carry out her commitments with those states with which it enters into diplomatic agreements.

With the recognition by France the soviet is now recognized in full by nineteen nations and has partial recognition from two others.

Germany was the first to recognize the new nation and since then has been followed by Austria, Denmark, Latvia, Lithuania, Estonia, Afghanistan, Finland, Poland, Persia, Great Britain, Italy, Greece, Mexico, Norway, Sweden and China. Czechoslovakia has a trade agreement with the Reds which is looked upon as de facto recognition and Hungary has completed all but the formalities leading toward the actual exchange of representatives.

The United States, Japanese and Belgium form a little bloc of irreconcilable holdings against Moscow, but there is said to be some possibility that Belgium will now follow the lead of France. Other small nations in central Europe that look to France for diplomatic guidance are also expected to negotiate with Moscow since Paris has resumed friendly relations. Japan has been negotiating with Moscow for months both at Tokyo and at Peking, leaving the United States the only leading power which has adopted a strictly hands off policy concerning Russia.

Russia has exchanged ambassadors with Germany, Italy and Turkey and has also sent an ambassador to China although China is still represented in Moscow by a trade delegation. Ministers also have been sent to all countries which have recognized the red regime with the exception of Great Britain.

Charge d'affaires Hodgson represents British interests in Russia pending the appointment of an ambassador and Russia's representative in England does not as yet have ministerial rank.

The sending of an ambassador to Peking, completely upset the political situation in the far east as the Russian envoys rank has always been that of Minister.

The present minister, M. Karahan, is now in conflict with representatives of other powers there on the question of rank for no other country has sent an ambassador to China and the doyenship of the diplomatic corps carries important considerations. Russia also upset precedent by appointing Madame Kollontai as minister to Norway, the first woman to hold a diplomatic post.

Although American capitalists have secured a number of concessions in solving tremendous amounts in Russia all but three or four have fallen through because of the inability of the concessionaries to meet terms laid down by the Moscow government.

The Sinclair concession in Saginaw, which was the cause of the hitch in negotiations between Russia and Japan, the recently announced American asbestos concession in the Urals and the Harriman concession are now the only outstanding American concessions that are still valid and active.

HUSBAND OF WOMAN WHO KILLED HER BABY IS IN CUSTODY—DENIES IMPLICATION OF CRIME

George Tobias is Held as Material Witness—Wife Admits First Time "She is Sorry"—Grand Jury To Investigate

Wooster, O., Oct. 29.—George Tobias, 25 and his wife, Blanche 21, the latter the confessed slayer of her two weeks old baby boy, both occupied cells in the Wayne County Jail today, the husband being brought here last night from Holmesville.

Tobias was arraigned before Mayor M. R. Limb on a charge of failure to provide the necessities of life for his infant child. The charge, Prosecutor J. O. Fritz, admits, is one made merely to hold him.

"I want to have Tobias where I know where he is when the grand jury investigates this case," the prosecutor said today. His bond was fixed at $1,000 and it was thought improbable that he could furnish it. "I never told Blanche that the baby was not mine," Tobias said in his cell today. "All I know about it is that she told me I was not its father. She told me the same thing about our little girl, who is now more than 2 years old. I never believed her. I don't believe now that she really meant what she said, and I feel sure the child was mine. I never saw Blanche in company with other men and I don't believe she ran around with them."

"Sure I'll do what I can do to help her in this difficulty. I don't know what I can do, but I'll do all I can. I still love her."

Mrs. Tobias last night slightly changed her confession in the case. In her new statement made before witnesses, she implicated her husband directly in the plot to "get rid of the baby." She asserted that at noon last Saturday, the day the child was killed, her husband, while at the infirmary, gave the baby some "medicine" out of a bottle. The bottle she said, contained a red label with the word "poison" on it.

After the medicine had been given Mrs. Tobias said the baby cried for a time and then slept. Her husband told her, she says, that the "medicine" was to "get rid of the baby," and that if it didn't do so she was to finish the job.

Authorities are not inclined to place much credence in her story. Tobias emphatically denies it, declaring that not a word was said during his visit about getting rid of the child.

Tobias points to the house he had rented at Holmesville, to a cellar stocked with potatoes and fruit, to a sack of hickory nuts he gathered in the woods and other provisions as evidence that he was making good his promise to provide a home for the family as soon as his wife was able to leave the infirmary.

"I'm sorry I killed the baby," Mrs. Tobias said today, admitting for the first time her regret. She still remains apparently oblivious to the enormity of her crime.

Mrs. Tobias first confessed she killed the child because her husband maintained it was not his, and that she did not think he would treat it right if she permitted it to live. She pinched its nose with her right hand and held its throat with her left hand. "It didn't struggle much," she said, "just moved its arms a little." In about three minutes it was dead.

When the woman was questioned about marks her fingers left on its throat, she admitted her guilt.

The babe was buried yesterday in Mt. Zion cemetery in Milton township. During the funeral the wife was in her cell at the jail. She had made no inquiry whatever concerning the disposition of the body.

SPELLBINDERS ARE BUSY WARMING UP ELECTION CAMPAIGN

Nominees Are Making Statements as Voting Day Draws Near

Washington, Oct. 29.—With election day only six days away, the presidential campaign continues in much the same manner that has marked it from the start.

John W. Davis, from Democratic national headquarters, issued a statement defining his version of the issues of the campaign, chief of which he contended is: "Shall the attitude of mind of the national administration be one of liberalism or reaction?" Davis is campaigning in New York.

Senator La Follette made another statement attacking the Republican method of collecting campaign contributions. He spoke in Brooklyn last night. Senator Wheeler, vice presidential running mate of La Follette, spent the day campaigning in Michigan, after which he will move eastward for the final days.

President Coolidge told friends every indication seemed to point to the election of the Republican national ticket, and he is making all his plans accordingly. While he indicated he had not decided definitely to vote by mail, he is planning to do so rather than to make a trip to Northampton, Mass., to cast his ballot.

Spellbinders of the three parties are trying to warm up the campaign in Ohio and other midwestern states during the closing days of the campaign.

Should no presidential candidate be able to muster a majority in the electoral college, the house of representatives will be called upon for the third time in history to select a chief executive. The constitution provides that the house make its selection from the candidates receiving the three highest votes in the college, and that the senate choose a vice president from the two having the highest number of votes in the college.

The present congress, the Sixty-eighth, will be the congress to decide the election should it become necessary. In the balloting for president in the house, each state is entitled to one vote, this vote to be cast according to the will of the majority of representatives of each state.

Necessary for the choice of a president in the house is a vote of 25 states. It is argued that if representatives vote according to party affiliation, a deadlock would be sure to ensue.

In the senate, in balloting for vice president, a majority of the whole number of senators is necessary for a choice, and there the balance of power is generally regarded as held by insurgents. Should the house fail to make a selection before March 4, the vice president, whom the senate would be called upon to elect in the event of a deadlock in the electoral college, would automatically become president.

Elizabeth N. J., Oct. 29.—The death list from inhaling gas at the research laboratory at the Bayway plant of the Standard Oil company has risen to three, with more than a dozen others in hospitals. William McSweeney is the latest victim.

Five more men employed in the laboratory were removed to hospitals in New York. This makes a known total of 11 men suffering from the "crazy" gas in addition to the five who went insane, three of whom have died. State officials began an investigation independent of the one being conducted by county officials.

Struck by Streetcar. Cincinnati, Oct. 29.—William Donnelly, 60, of Cleves, O., was killed and Guy Wilkie, 54, also of Cleves, received a fractured skull, when the machine in which they were riding was struck by a streetcar at Lawrenceburg, Ind.

PRISON STRIKERS ON SHORT DIET

Moundsville, W. Va., Oct. 29.—The 1,400 convicts who went on a "strike" in the Moundsville penitentiary against extra work have been placed on a "meager" diet, according to Warden S. K. Smith. The prisoners, including 100 women, kept up a terrific din throughout the night, beating on their cell doors, cursing and screaming and threatening guards who attempted to quiet them. Searchlights played on the cell houses until daybreak. Machine guns were mounted on the walls of the prison and special and volunteer police assisted authorities in patrolling the prison.

Warden Smith said he made no effort as yet to put the convicts back to work. The "strike" followed an attempt on the part of the prison authorities to put a longer work day into effect in the garment factory. It was said, and the convicts rebelled. Aside from a lot of noise making, there was no trouble of any kind.

Train Derailed. Omaha, Neb., Oct. 29.—Seventeen persons were injured when a Rock Island train was derailed at Pawnee City. One coach of the train was badly wrecked. The injured were taken to a local hospital. Cause of the derailment is not known.

Negro Lynched. Louisville, Oct. 29.—A mob at Presburg, Ky., dragged Kid Shannon, 29, negro, from jail and riddled his body with bullets. Shannon was charged with having killed a white man. Fifteen men were guarding the jail at the time the negro was seized. Chief of Police Vernon Castle said.

CITY OF XENIA MADE DEFENDANT IN SUIT FOR $10,000 DAMAGES

The City of Xenia has been named defendant in a suit for $10,000 damages filed in Common Pleas Court by Fred Fox through his attorney Daniel Nevins, as a result of injuries alleged to have been received on the night of August 16, 1924, when Clay Phipps, a special patrolman, in attempting to arrest him, struck him over the head with his mace, breaking his club, and inflicting serious injuries.

The plaintiff charges that the defendant has employed Phipps as a special officer, without his taking a civil service examination, without requiring him to furnish bond, or without making an investigation into his record regarding his capability to serve as a patrolman.

According to the petition, on the night of August 16, about 10 o'clock, the plaintiff was walking along De-... Street, when Phipps accosted him, and made an attempt to take him to Police Headquarters, when the plaintiff had not violated any law.

The plaintiff alleges that Phipps brutally assaulted him with his mace, striking him on the head with such force as to break the mace, and a large cut was made in his forehead, knocking him to the ground and severely injuring him.

The plaintiff charges that while he was on the ground, Phipps stood over him with a revolver in his hand, threatening to blow his brains out, and when the plaintiff had recovered sufficiently to regain his feet and started toward his home, Phipps shot at him.

The plaintiff claims that because of injuries inflicted upon him by Phipps, he had to be taken to a hospital, and is still receiving medical attention, and has been unable to work since the assault, and by reason of the injuries asks $10,000 damages.

MONEY AT WORK

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments

"Castles in Spain" are fun to build, but if they get too spacious and elaborate they will be of little help in the word of realities.

Most of us are still working on our first million and success comes to the person who keeps his financial imagination just the right number of laps ahead in the race for the lead.

The man or woman who dreams of rebuilding the world or of becoming a millionaire overnight or of making a revolutionizing invention is apt to be left by the wayside. Instead of dreaming castles, set your imagination at the problems of tomorrow's job. How to tackle that stiff customer; what to do with that past due account; or how to feed the family on what is left of this week's food allowance. Those are problems enough for anybody. Solve those before you try something bigger.

There isn't a line of this above but what we all know by heart.

But if we practiced what we know we would each be richer and happier than we now are. Think it over.

Then tackle—and solve—your nearest financial riddle.

DONAHEY WORRIED BY BRICK PLANT DEAL

Governor Vic Donahey, Democratic candidate to succeed himself, is worried over the Republican charge that the purchase of the Roseville brick plant was a "$35,000 gold brick" handed the state of Ohio to favor a certain contractor.

The story has been made public by the Country Press Association, through the Western Newspaper Union. Importance was attached to the yarn only after the Governor became alarmed at its circulation to the extent of threatening suit if printed.

A telegram received from the executive by the Gazette and Republican says the story is libelous and that newspapers publishing the story would be held responsible. The telegram is as follows:

"If story and cut entitled: 'Here's Donahey's $35,000 brick plant,' has been furnished you this is to inform you it is libelous throughout and I will hold your newspaper responsible if the story is printed. Vic Donahey, Governor."

JUNIORS OF CHURCH STAGE FROLIC TUESDAY

The social rooms of the First M. E. Church were the scene of a delightful Halloween party, staged by the members of the Junior Department of the Sunday School.

The guests included a number of visitors from other churches of the city and teachers of the older classes of the church. Each of the guests was masked and a feature of the evening was a grand march. Prizes were awarded in the games and contests held and a refreshment course of doughnuts and apples was served. Between 125 and 150 children and grown-ups attended the party.

RESTAURANT MAN DIDN'T EAT HIS OWN FOOD

"It's pretty tough for a restaurant man to have stomach trouble. My customers were always telling me I ought to eat in a good restaurant. The fact was I couldn't eat a thing that didn't bloat me up and no medicine or doctors helped me. I tried everything recommended and at last Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, and I assure you I didn't have to look any further. Since taking it I have been a well man." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. THE WHITE HOUSE ENTERTAINS A PARTY OF ACTOR-FOLKS TO BREAKFAST

Quoting from the publication "Time":
"Early one bright morning, Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge stood on their threshold. Up drove automobiles, on piled two-score laughing, talkative guests. Everyone shook hands and then Mrs. Coolidge said: 'Let's go in to breakfast.' Immediately the President offered his arm to a tall, deep-voiced blonde young lady named Charlotte Greenwood and led the party into the state dining-room. Mr. Coolidge took the arm of a dignified gentleman named Colonel Rhinelander Waldo, then spied a smiling man called Al Jolson and took his arm as well. Said she: 'I want two partners for this occasion.'"

Soon the Executive Mansion "rang with merriment." Within three minutes the President's lips were parted, his teeth showed, his mouth opened, he laughed outright. The guests were delegates of the Coolidge Non-Partisan League, actor-folk, come to assure the President their support next month.

The pancakes dispatched, the coffee finished, all strolled to the White House lawn, where Mr. Hitchcock continued to talk until all the guests and a band, burst into a new campaign song written by Mr. Jolson. The burden of this song that it would be wise and appropriate to keep Mr. Coolidge in the Presidential chair for the reasons that: "Without a lot of fuss he did a lot for us" and "He's never asleep; still water runs deep."

Mr. Coolidge's Cabinet was waiting, so the party dispersed and said "thank you." Mr. Jolson said: "I ate everything in sight but the sausage."

"Does that include the doilies?" asked Mrs. Coolidge.
"No," said Mr. Jolson. "I have those in my pocket."

WORDS OF WARNING

The National Association of Manufacturers has 5,000 members and 312 separate manufacturers' associations with 100,000 members are affiliated with it. Its combined membership manufactures 80 per cent of the total industrial output of the United States—about $50,000,000,000—pays 80 per cent of the wages received by the industrial workers of the country, and 30 per cent of all taxes received by the Government.

This great association was born in Cincinnati. It held its latest meeting in this city—the first meeting outside New York in years. Its President had something to say with reference to present political and business conditions. He warned his hearers and the public that if by any contingency La Follette should win, or the election be thrown into Congress, the country would suffer the greatest industrial calamity in its history.

This is the voice of $50,000,000,000 speaking—speaking to business and labor of Cincinnati, of every city. It asks, in effect, if the country desires to risk industrial chaos, financial disaster, social confusion and political disruption, or whether it desires a continuance of business and labor conditions according to the formula of sound government and sound economics. —Cincinnati Enquirer, Oct. 27.

FOUGHT VALIANTLY AGAINST ENTANGLING ALLIANCES

Senator Brandegee, of Connecticut, was one of the most irreconcilable of the "Bitter-Enders" who fought the League of Nations in the United States Senate. His influence in the Senate Foreign Relations Committee was hardly less than that of its chairman Senator Lodge. With Borah, of Idaho; Johnson, of California; Moses of New Hampshire, and McCormick, of Illinois, Frank B. Brandegee broke down the Wilsonian world program. He was chairman of the Judiciary committee and a figure of power in a Senate where he had served for almost twenty years. No man ever fought more consistently to maintain the sovereignty of the United States and its freedom from compromising and entangling alliances. He was one of the "Battalion of Death", one of the "Old Guard." He lived a lonely life and died a lonely death. His troubles of age and financial reverses came to be too great to be borne and he took his own way out of life. He leaves behind a tangled political situation, and his passing further complicates the possibilities that may arise in case the national election is thrown into a deadlocked Congress.

THE WILSON INFLUENCE THERE YET

The Republican primary in New Jersey brought out a very heavy vote. In the 1919 State election 202,976 ballots were cast by Republicans. In the 1920 national elections more than 600,000 Republicans voted for Harding. This year about 475,000 Jersey voters turned out for the Republican primary, and the majority of Senator Edge over National Committeeman Hamilton F. Kean for the senatorial nomination was upward of 50,000. It was a bitter campaign, with a fighting finish, in which wets, dries, liberals and the Klan were all entangled. The American Federation of Labor, forgetting its pledged troth to LaFollette, got in the melee. Senator Edge has won by a vote and a majority that should insure a united party behind him in November. Despite the fact that he will be opposed by a Democrat, a LaFolletteista and an Anti-Saloon League candidate, there is not much likelihood of the Republicans losing their one Senator from New Jersey.

A CITY STREET

A city street
Where hurrying feet
Move ever up and down;
Where day by day
Men seek the way
To fortune and renown.

And some are bound
For higher ground,
And some for bleak despair;
And some for fame,
And some for shame,
And some an hour of prayer.

And some are strong
That move along,
And some are pale and weak;
And some are gaunt
With care and want,
And some are smug and sleek.

When these are gone
More will come on
To tread the self-same way;
And they will be
Like you and me
Who walk the street today.

They, too, will strive
To keep alive,
They, too, will rise and fall;
And God above
Will shed his love

And mercy on them all.

So view the throng
Which moves along
To pleasure or to trade;
From these you meet
Upon the street
In time are angels made.

1904-Twenty Years Ago-1924

Xenia Lodge of Elks announces that it has closed contracts and made all arrangements to give the people the best musical production ever before seen at the local Opera House this coming Thanksgiving eve and night.

The Xenia High School football team was defeated for the second time by Washington C. H. Saturday, at the local field, when Washington won by a score of 11 to 6.

Great enthusiasm prevailed at a Republican meeting at the Opera House Saturday afternoon and fine addresses were continually interrupted by bursts of applause and rousing cheers.

A small freight wreck on the C. H. and D. which occurred about 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon, a few miles this side of Chillicothe caused the wrecking crew from Dayton considerable trouble.

The mixture simmer for 30 minutes, stirring constantly. Then add to it one square of bitter chocolate, melted, and beat till creamy. Remove from fire and beat till firm. Now add to it one teaspoon of vanilla, one-half cup of chopped nut meats, and one tablespoon each of chopped candied pineapple, chopped preserved ginger and chopped dates, raisins, or dried currants may be substituted if desired. Pour into buttered pans, mark in squares when half cold, and let stand in cool place till firm. Contributed by Mrs. D. S.

Easily-Made Fondant: Put the white of one egg in a bowl and add enough powdered sugar to make stiff; add a few drops of either vanilla extract or lemon pice, then cut off small pieces of this fondant, roll them in more powdered or confectioners' sugar, shape them round with your fingers and press a half walnut meat on top of each. Use a little uncooked eggyolk to color these candies yellow if desired. Or use a little melted chocolate or cocoa-powder to color them brown. Red vegetable coloring matter may also be used.

Cream Candy: Boil together two and one-half cups of granulated sugar and one-half cup of water; when this is clear, add one-half cup of sweet cream so slowly that the candy will not stop boiling, and let it continue to boil till a little is brittle when dropped into cold water (or, if you are using a candy Fahrenheit thermometer, stop cooking when 300 degrees are registered). Now pour it out onto a buttered platter, put one teaspoon of vanilla extract on top of it and one cup of any kind of nut-meats finely chopped, let cool, then pull it till white and firm. Cut into pieces. Standing for a week in an airtight container makes it very creamy. This is fine candy for a child's "candy pull" party. It is not hard to make, and the children will enjoy pulling it.

"Fruit Fudge: Put into a large saucepan two cups of granulated sugar, two heaping tablespoons of butter, and one cup of cream, and let

STEP OUT!

There wouldn't be much to this world without its rank and file. On the other hand, there wouldn't be much of a rank and file if somebody didn't step out every once in a while and run ahead.

George M. Cohan says that the great man is he who does the original thing, who steps out and demonstrates that he is able to handle the unusual situation.

To me Chicago is one of the most inspiring cities in America. I would say the world, but I have not been around the world as yet. Also I do not live in Chicago.

But it wasn't very long ago that a group of far seeing men in Chicago dreamed a dream—of a beautiful city. And so they drew a picture of it. Beautiful avenues and lovely buildings were drawn to take place of narrow streets, impassable situations and old rickety buildings.

In less than twenty years the city has been partly rebuilt. Whole streets have been widened and great avenues have appeared. The great Lake Michigan has been coaxed to back up and new water drives have appeared. A marvelous museum and the greatest artificial municipal stadium in the world has been built where once the waves washed the shore. Before long the greatest water front and park drive in the world will be completed. Such enterprise is an inspiration for the entire world.

But those men of vision had to step out. They had to fight opposition. They had to produce the goods. I like the "step out" men. Just fix the names of a few in your mind: Edison, Ford, Rockefeller, Steinmetz, Harriman.

Mr. Miller, who is the general manager of The Detroit News, told me the story of a commissioner of public works who was building sewers. He became uneasy because it took so much time and money. So he invented a new piece of machinery that did about twenty times the amount of work.

Be a rank and file until you know the rank and file. Then, my friend, step out!

GEOFFREY O'HARA IS ENTERTAINING IN TALK TO KIWANIS

Geoffrey O'Hara, noted musician, composer, chautauqua lecturer, and author of the world famous song "K-K-Katy" in an address punctuated with witty stories and musical selections, entertained forty-five members of the local Kiwanis Club at their regular meeting Tuesday night at the Elks' Lodge, with a clever explanation and demonstration of the real value of music.

Opening his talk with a song, which he said he had dedicated to the Prince of Wales, and which he called "Give a Man a Horse He Can Ride," Mr. O'Hara reverted to the theme of his address "The Economic Value of Music," stressing the point that music is a vital factor in human lives, and its introduction to the child under seven years of age, he urged that children under seven years of age be given an opportunity of learning old familiar tunes in their homes and in the schools, because of the influence the proper kind of music has on human life.

In support of his statement he pointed out that an investigation he had conducted in a girls' reformatory in the East, revealed the fact that not one of the inmates there had had the opportunity of listening to music before they were seven years of age. The old music and songs learned at home will recall later in life home associations and memories which give the child of yesterday something to tie to later in life, he said.

"Music," said Mr. O'Hara, "materially aids in the equalization of the two creative forces in each individual—the mental and the physical. These forces should be balanced or one will run away with the other, and where music has been absent in the early life of the child the physical force may overshadow the mental often with disastrous consequences."

"It will save this country billions of dollars and many lives if good songs are learned before seven years of age," he said. "The case of Loeb and Leopold is a sample of this. This case it is estimated, cost the community a half million dollars."

Completing his address Mr. O'Hara gave a demonstration of a reproducing piano furnished by the Anderson Piano Company of this city. The demonstration took the form of a conversation with the piano in which questions of Mr. O'Hara were answered by various air play on the piano. The demonstration ended by Mr. O'Hara singing his latest composition "Dreaming of My Old Home Sweet Home."

Roy Hayward was in charge of the early part of the meeting, and led the singing. Following the meeting the members of the club and their wives were guests of the Standard Amusement Company at the performance of "Abie's Irish Rose" at the Opera House.

The meeting of the club next week will be held on Wednesday instead of Tuesday because of election night falling on Tuesday.

COURT NEWS

SALE IS APPROVED
In the case of Mary Lang, administratrix, against Luzern Murphy, in Common Pleas Court, the court has approved the sale of the property to George Boedeker for $1,920 and decided that the remaining $1,739.53, left after payment of debts, should be applied on the account of the plaintiff, as administratrix of the estate. The court also decided that there is still due the plaintiff $2,592.93 on the account, and ordered that the plaintiff recover that amount from the defendant as administratrix of the estate of Peter Lang, deceased.

WANTS PARTITION
Ethel Snodgrass has filed suit for partition of property against Alvin Hargrave, C. O. Hargrave, L. E. Hargrave, Emmaline Hargrave, widow of John M. Hargrave, deceased, and Fred Yove, in Common Pleas Court.

The plaintiff alleges that Emmaline Hargrave as widow of the deceased, is entitled dower in the estate left by John Hargrave, father of the defendants. The property left by the deceased is valued at between $1,500 and $2,000.

The plaintiff claims that the defendants, C. O. Hargrave, L. E. Hargrave, and Alvin Hargrave, and herself have lawful right to a one-fourth interest in the estate, and charges that Alvin Hargrave was indebted to the plaintiff's father in the sum of $6,829.09, and that L. E. Hargrave had received advances from his father's estate to the extent of $2,000.

The plaintiff asks that the court determine the sums due L. E. Hargrave and Alvin Hargrave, and the amount each owe their father's estate and what amount should be deducted from their interest in the estate of their deceased father and be charged with these debts.

The plaintiff claims that the defendant, Fred Love, claims a prior mortgage on the interest of Alvin Hargrave in the estate and avers that he has no interest and could not execute a valid mortgage.

The plaintiff asks that partition be made, or the property appraised and her interest set off to her in severalty.

Marcus Shoup is attorney for the plaintiff.

POLICE RECOVER STOLEN MACHINE

James Marshall, of this city, was the victim of what was probably a Halloween prank, Tuesday night, when his Ford touring car, parked in front of J. A. Finney's residence, South Detroit Street, was stolen, he reported at Police Headquarters. Although the machine was recovered early Wednesday morning by Patrolman Charles Simms, parked and abandoned on Shepherd Street, the mystery has not been cleared up, and the "practical jokers" are still at large.

KIDS GET GATE
Another "practical joke" was played, probably by kids, it was thought, Tuesday night, with H. S. Smith, of 137 East Third Street as the victim. The iron gate, attached to the fence that surrounds his residence, had been removed from its hinges, Smith reported to police and has not been recovered.

Smith, as a special policeman for the purpose of preventing interference at fires, and to co-operate with the Police Department in approaching violations of the law such as running in front of the fire apparatus and chasing the trucks and from fires, according to an announcement by Judge Smith Tuesday.

"There are many violations of the law during the excitement which attend a fire," declared Judge Smith, "such as driving too close to the fire trucks, driving over the fire hose, parking automobiles and other vehicles too close to the scene of the fire, interfering with the firemen, and other things that handicap the firemen."

Chief Claire will now have the authority to stop these violations or arrest the violators, according to Judge Smith.

Chief Claire will also be furnished with a badge as an insignia of his authority.

WEST VIRGINIA MAY CLAIM ORIGIN OF POE'S "THE RAVEN"

Huntington, W. Va., Oct. 29.—Did Edgar Allan Poe pen his masterpiece, "The Raven," in West Virginia? This question is the central topic of discussion in literary circles throughout the State.

In fact, a number of literary societies have announced they will conduct a joint campaign shortly to prove that Poe wrote his immortal poem, while exiled at "Ravenscroft," a picturesque estate in the Kanawha Valley near here.

The visit of Poe to Mrs. Elizabeth Tompkins, mistress of Ravenscroft, and sister to his godmother, in Baltimore, heretofore has been regarded as mere tradition.

Now, however, it is asserted that Poe actually did visit Ravenscroft and there was inspired by his surroundings to compose his famous poem.

Recently the entire estate was purchased by a wealthy Kanawha valley mine operator, and the house, closed for many years, was opened again.

While exploring his new possession the new owner, whose name was withheld, was said to have discovered, in the attic, a dust-covered box containing six casts of ravens. They were bought by the master of Ravenscroft to decorate the mansion following the success of the poem written by young Poe while a guest in the house, according to the story.

Ravenscroft was the center of an enormous plantation, which retained more than 100 slaves. The mansion was erected in 1832 on the Kanawha River. Located on a slight rise of ground, it commanded a brilliant panoramic view of the surrounding hills and the blue river in the distance.

Despite its grandeur, however, it was a melancholy place and considered the wilds of Southwestern Virginia.

Poe, following a wild escapade in Baltimore, was exiled there by his relatives and came reluctantly, for it was Autumn and the leaves had already begun to fall from the trees, accentuating the melancholy aspect of the place far removed from the then existing centers of population.

However, he was welcomed so hospitably that he spent the Winter there and, during that time, wrote "The Raven," while under the charm of the sad environment of the stately mansion.

In the Spring, in honor of the success of the poem, the master of Ravenscroft ordered casts of six ravens. (One clung with his talons to the crest above the door. Another stood above the sideboard in the dining room. A third was in the hallway and one was used over the fireplace in the living room. The other two found places in the master's bedroom and in the room which had been occupied by the brilliant young poet.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Terrell and baby daughter, Betty Jean of Cincinnati, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Robert Terrell of Hill Street.

The accident occurred about 8 a.m., 12 miles north of here. Mrs. George Hartman was a daughter-in-law of Hartman. REPUBLICAN WOMEN WILL MEET FRIDAY

Miss Helen Dodds, Greene County chairman of Republican women, is announcing a meeting for Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, in the Common Pleas Court Room at the Court House.

Mrs. Lillian Burt from Republican Headquarters, is to be the speaker. She will speak on the campaign issues.

All women are invited to be present.

WIVES ARE WORTH THE TROUBLE SAYS MUCH WED MONARCH

London, Oct. 29.—"Wives are worth all the trouble they cause," Thus speaks the Emir of Katsina, dusky potentate of Nigeria. The Emir should know because he has no less than four wives and twenty concubines.

The Emir has come to London, with only one wife in attendance upon him, and he doesn't have to ponder long to reach the conclusion that wives are NOT more bother than they are worth.

Arrayed in flowing robes of blue, red and green, and bearing the scepter symbolic of his power, the Emir, surrounded by his chieftrains, consented to be interviewed in a fashionable London hotel, for the benefit and education of the Northern press.

An interpreter was a necessity. The interviewer rather cautiously suggested that the Emir might be willing to discuss his harem, but the interpreter refused to even question the Emir, but admitted that the Emir wanted the world to know that wives were worth all the trouble they caused.

"Why?" queried the inquisitive interviewer.

The Emir rolled his eyes and responded. The interpreter said that the Emir said:

"Wives are worth trouble only because they work. In Katsina they must spin so much cotton each day, and they must do so much housework. And they are unpaid. And they are unpaid."

"Three of them began the great journey with me, but only one of them dared the ordeal of the railway train. The others caused me all the expense of motoring them 100 miles to the railroad and then refused to come further, despite my protestations. I was gravely disappointed."

"The only one who was brave enough to continue with me was a young girl. She is the well-bred daughter of a mighty Emir, and intelligent as well."

Here the Emir was questioned about wives being troublesome.

"Yes," replied the Emir after thought. "Sometimes they are troublesome. But then when wives quarrel a little or are jealous a little, we call them up in front of us and tell them not to do it again. That I usually enough."

The Emir explained that divorce is easy in Katsina and wives need only be told to go and they are considered divorced and this makes discipline easy. Perhaps the Emir doesn't find wives as troublesome as Northern husbands and perhaps that's why he feels that "wives are worth all the trouble they cause."

Mr. and Mrs. John Holland, and Mrs. Mary Vetter were the guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Bagford, of Spring Valley.

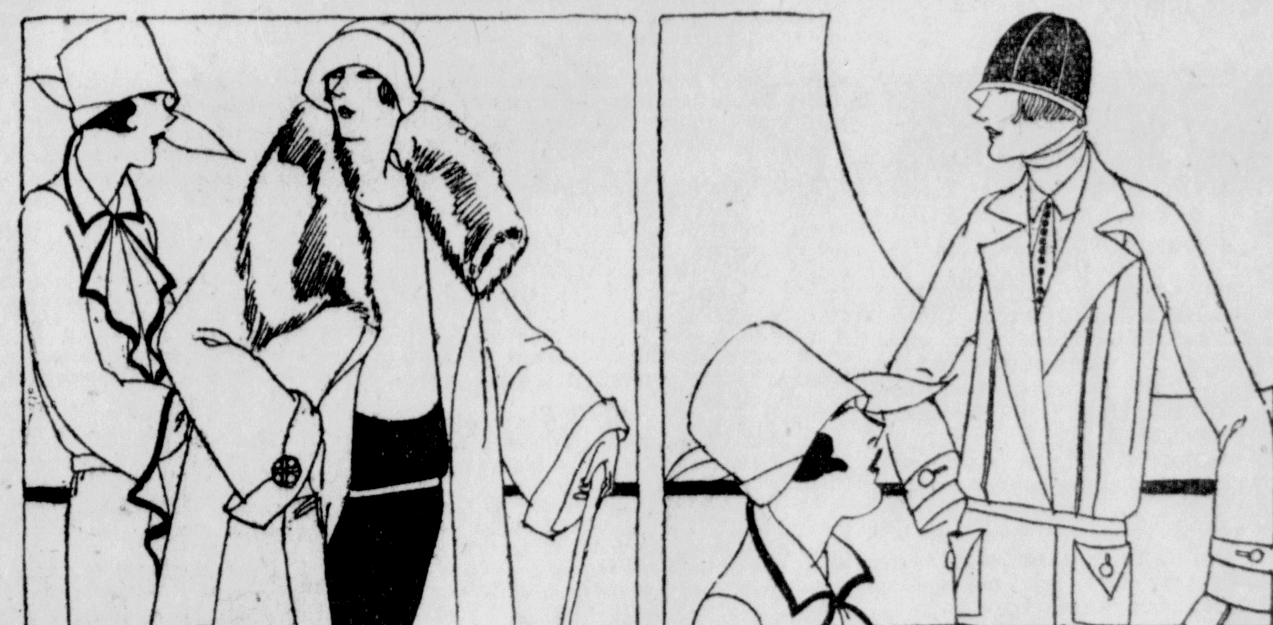

Mr. and Mrs. Garland Bagford and daughter Louise, of Springfield were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Bagford, of Spring Valley, Sunday.

MODISH MITZI—Mitzi Helps Eleanor Buy Sport Clothes

By Jay V. Jay

Eleanor considers sports a serious matter and nothing about them more serious than their clothes. She takes Mitzi along shopping because in this weighty problem two head far better than one. This coat is not a coat. It is a cape with sleeves, has a racoon collar, and is the smartest of new topcoats.

Good to the last stitch! This is the sort of suit that never goes out of style, thinks Eleanor. It is of khaki brown covert cloth, has large patch pockets, a belt and wide tailored lapels. It's good for every outdoor occasion and Adelaide will wear it with that principle well in mind.

This tailored coat, that Eleanor wears, while not exactly and precisely a sport coat, is simple enough to be correct for the country as well as for street wear in town. It is trimmed with a collar and cuff-bands of gray opossum. Its only other decoration is stitched bands of the fabric.

The plain tailored suit of the season follows these lines. The coat is fairly long, nearly three-quarter length, and the suit is quite untrimmed. The lapels are eddy cut and the coat is a double breasted model. There are pockets on the sides of the coat. The skirt is plain.

SATURDAY NIGHT TO SEE FINAL MEET OF REPUBLICAN DRIVE

The grand closing rally of the Republican county campaign will be held at Yellow Springs Saturday evening at the Opera House, and will be featured by addresses by Senator Simeon D. Fess, of Akron, newspaper publisher, and Mrs. William R. Rockel, of Springfield, member of the state Republican Central Committee.

The address by Senator Fess should be of principal interest in view of the fact that he will be addressing his own townspeople, in his closing campaign speech of the year in behalf of the Republican party.

The speech by Knight, former congressman and a potent factor in Republican politics, will be one of those in a short "stumping" tour which Mr. Knight is making at the personal request of President Coolidge, in the interest of the Republican party.

The speaker bears a reputation for making political addresses which possess a "kick" and which are different in style from the stereotyped generalities which are frequently heard from a political orator. Mr. Knight does not come to Yellow Springs with the label of "orator" but rather with the label of a speaker who "says something" when he talks, and who "tramps on toes" when he remarks.

Mr. Knight has never addressed a Greene County audience. He is publisher of the Springfield Sun and the HFMH-vducvxA flarkon the man in the Akron Beacon-Journal and was runner-up to Carmel Thompson in the Republican gubernatorial primary of two years ago.

Mrs. William G. Rockel, the third speaker, who has been delivering speeches in behalf of her party throughout the campaign, several to Greene County audiences, will direct her remarks mainly to the women voters.

L. T. Marshall, chairman of the Greene County Republican Executive Committee, will preside at the meeting as chairman.

The rally is scheduled for 8 o'clock and will be preceded by a short entertainment at the residence of Senator Fess.

Special music by band at the residence of Senator Fess, from 6 to 7:30 o'clock will precede the rally, to which everyone is invited. Sandwiches, doughnuts and coffee will be served.

Tuesday night at the Opera House at Jamestown, Congressman Charles Brand, of Urbana, addressed a large and enthusiastic meeting of Republican voters and supporters, and detailed the main issues of the campaign, not forgetting the tariff question, and outlining the industrial conditions both in the western part of the country and in Europe, where he spent several months for that express purpose.

Dr. W. R. McChesney, president of Cedarville College, and Republican supporter, was unable to attend the Jamestown rally, and the speech by Congressman Brand was the only feature of the meeting.

FARM ELEVATORS' MANAGERS TO MEET

The meeting is being called to perfect a county-wide organization and to discuss the advisability of employing a county-service man in the interest of the elevator companies.

An informal discussion will be held.

AUDIENCE LAUGHS LONG AND LOUD AT ABIE'S IRISH ROSE

Audiences that did not do credit to the cast that presented the "comedy of the century" attended "Abie's Irish Rose" at the City Hall Theatre, Monday and Tuesday nights. The same cast that presented the show in Dayton and other Ohio cities several months ago is included in the Xenia offering and all the advance notices of the worth of the plot were found to be true by the local audiences.

"Abie's Irish Rose" is a three-act comedy, founded upon Jewish-Irish antagonism and although religious differences is one of the pivotal themes, it is handled with a tact and delicacy which gives no offense to Jew or Christian.

The lines of the comedy are rich in their humor and the unique plot of the show as a whole was delightful to the extreme. A Catholic girl of Irish-American parentage and a Jewish youth fall ardently in love while both are serving in the war on the battlefield of France.

The play opens they have just been secretly married by a Methodist minister in Jersey City.

Then trouble begins, for the boy's father is an orthodox Jew and refused to even think of a Christian daughter-in-law. The young couple does not dare tell him of their marriage and Abie, the son, introduces his bride, nee Rosemary Murphy, as his sweetheart, "Rosie Murphiksky."

The father then falls in love with the girl and insists that his son immediately marry Rosie, of course, by a Rabbi. Just as the ceremony is concluded, in another room, the girl's father, Patrick Murphy, an Irish contractor, from California, arrives on the scene. He is furious when he learns that his daughter has become Mrs. Abie Levi and the two fathers get into a pitched battle of acrimonious contempt for each other's racial characteristics.

Murphy is accompanied by a Catholic priest who, in the temporary absence of Murphy, and at the suggestion of the Rabbi, again marries the young couple in a third ceremony. This does not mend matters for the two fathers standpoint. The children are disowned, and in the year's interval between the second and third act, have a pretty hard struggle to get

Makes a Family Supply of Cough Remedy

Really better than ready-made cough syrups, and saves about $2. Easily and quickly prepared.

If you combined the curative properties of every known "ready-made" cough remedy, you probably could not get as much real curative power as there is in this simple home-made cough syrup, which is easily prepared in a few minutes.

Get from any druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with syrup, using either plain granulated sugar syrup, clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, as desired. The result is a full pint of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Tastes pleasant and never spoils.

This Pinex and Syrup preparation gets right at the cause of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the phlegm, stops the nasty throat tickle and heals the sore, irritated membranes so gently and easily that it is really astonishing.

A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough and for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma, there is nothing better.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine, and has been used for generations to break up severe coughs.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

along. Comes Christmas Eve at the rise of the curtain on the last act, with Abie and Rosie singing their first born to sleep, after which they dress the Christmas tree. Then comes Pat Murphy and Solomon Levi bearing gifts for their grandchild, though still unconquered to their children. They meet and another wordy battle ensues of such sarcastic repartee as to provoke gales of laughter from their audience. Then the priest and Rabbi appear, and finally bring about a reconciliation, helped by the clinging little baby hands and the old foes become firm friends planning a happy future for the young family. Besides these main characters, there are Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Cohen, friends of the Levi's who contribute side-splitting comedy dialogues and situations, which fit in with the warm-hearted, hot-headed fathers each fighting with wordy weapons characteristic of their individual races in the many diamond-cut-diamond scenes.

The splendid cast of players personally selected by the author, Mrs. Nichols, are all true to type in their interpretations and include Nat Koff as Solomon Levi, Marty Ford as Isaac Cohen, Ida Singer as Mrs. Cohen, Thomas McGrath as the priest, Father Whalen, John McCabe as Patrick Murphy, B. F. Hersome as the Rabbi, Dr. Jacob Samuels, Dorothy Webb as Rosemary Murphy and Earle Larimore as Abie. Miss Velma Huston, as one of the bridesmaids and Miss Helen Evans as train-bearer, too part in the production. An orchestra composed of Helen Hurley, Lucille Denham, William Harner and Dr. A. B. Kester, interspersed the acts.

POPULAR SONGS TO BE HEARD IN LEGION PERFORMANCE HERE

The program for the American Legion Minstrels, to be staged at the City Hall Theatre Thursday and Friday, October 30 and 31, is being rapidly worked into shape by Charlie Gano, veteran minstrelman, with nightly rehearsals at the American Legion headquarters.

With a number of good singers and actors taking leading parts in the production, this year's offering is expected to surpass other efforts. The popularity of home-talent minstrels for a number of years in Xenia will prove itself again this year with large audiences both nights, it is expected.

Harry Kiernan will sing "Can't Fool an Old Hoss Fly." George Swartz has a good comedy song "Go Long Mule." Roy Hayward is going to enliven things up with a jazz song, "Goin' South."

Fritz Haller will "do his stuff" with "Doodle De Doo," one of the most popular numbers today. Elwood Smith will sing "Somebody Stole My Gal."

These are a few of the song successes that will be introduced in the performance.

MANY ARE USING ABSENT VOTERS BALLOTS THIS WEEK

The absent ballot total is mounting up according to Earl Short, clerk of the board of Elections, who declared that up to and including Monday, October 27, 102 licensed voters had either voted by mail or at the clerk's office in the Court House.

It is not known whether the large total creates a precedent for the first two weeks that the ballots are available, but it may safely be said that the total should rival that of the last presidential election, and far exceed the primary vote.

During the first week that the slips could be had, but thirty-five citizens availed themselves of the privilege, but the total picked up during the next week, until almost twice as many had used the slips of paper.

The ballots are for those voters who will be away from the city on election day, Tuesday, November 4, and all licensed voters may either have the ballot mailed to them, after first making application by giving their name, residence, and present address, that the clerk may know in which precinct they belong, or vote directly at the clerk's office.

Ballots will be available until Saturday noon, but all ballots in the mails addressed to the Board of Elections before Saturday night will be counted.

ECZEMA

You will be compelled to admit that the results of S.S.S. are really amazing!

MANY people imagine that eczema or tetter needs only some external application on the skin in order to get relief. This is because the attention of the sufferer is so violently directed to the intense burning and itching which accompanies this disease, that they may expect permanent relief will never be theirs until the disease laden blood is thoroughly cleansed.

We know there is one thing that stops eczema and that is more red blood-cells! S.S.S. builds them by the million! You can increase your red blood-cells to the point where it is practically impossible for eczema to exist. We know that as blood-cells increase in number, blood impurities vanish! We also know that night follows day. Both are facts! But have you, eczema sufferers, ever actually taken advantage of this wonderful fact? Thousands just like you have never thought about it. Skin eruptions, eczema, with all its fiery, skin digging torture, and its scurfing, unrelenting itching, pimples, blackheads and boils, they all pack up and go, when the tide of blood-cells begins to roll in! Blood-cells are the fighting giants of Nature! S.S.S. builds them by the million! It has been doing it since 1826.

S.S.S. is one of the greatest blood-cell builders, blood-cleansers and body strengtheners known to us mortals! When you put these facts together, then to continue to have eczema and skin eruptions looks more like a sin than a disease. S.S.S. contains only vegetable mineral ingredients. Because S.S.S. does build red blood-cells, it routs eczema, clears the skin, builds firm flesh, fills out hollow cheeks, and gives you that more up and going appearance.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

Complexion better than ever before

Embarrassing eruption had resisted many treatments

Milwaukee, Wis., May 12—"A year ago I had a very ugly and embarrassing itching rash on my chin. I tried so many different treatments on it which did little good, that finally I became discouraged. The druggist one day recommended Resinol Soap and I decided to try it and after using it less than one week, the itching and burning ceased. I thought if the soap alone could bring such relief, then the Resinol Ointment must certainly clear away the trouble entirely. After applying it for three nights, you can imagine how delighted I was to find the rash all gone, with not even a trace of redness left.

I now keep Resinol Ointment within reach at all times—would not be without it. I find it very economical to use, as a little goes a long way. I have used Resinol Soap daily and will continue to do so. My complexion today is better than ever before, has a healthful glow and, in fact, is all that it should be—thanks to your wonderful Resinol Soap and Ointment."

BRINGING UP FATHER

The Truant Soul

By Victor Rousseau

The girl, after a moment's hesitation, preceded Mrs. Fraser into the building. She saw a long corridor, with a number of doors on either side, and the stairs in front of her.

"You would like to see the building, Miss Wentworth?" asked the matron. "Or perhaps you are tired and would prefer to go to your room."

"No, I should like to see it. Have you many patients?"

"Only Mrs. Dana. She's always here, you know. There was a boy with a broken arm, but he left this morning. In winter, though, we're often crowded. It isn't much of a place, Miss Wentworth, but we do a little good. This is the doctor's apartment. He sleeps here; next door is the clinic, and next to that the operating room. Here we keep the supplies. This is my room. Mr. Myers, the secretary, has his room opposite the doctor's. This is the dining room, and here is the kitchen. Now I'll show you your room upstairs, Miss Wentworth."

The corridor above was a hallway at the one below. At the head of the stairs a little passage branched off toward a large window in the wall, with a door to one side of it.

"Mrs. Dana occupies this room," said the matron. "Perhaps the doctor mentioned her?"

"Doctor Lancaster said something—"

"She is out of her mind, poor woman, but she is perfectly quiet. You see, Miss Wentworth, she is like an infant mentally. She will not trouble you. Excuse me a moment."

She drew a key from the bunch that hung at her waist and unlocked the door very softly, and with a certain furtiveness, Joan thought. Looking in, the girl saw a strikingly handsome woman of about seven and thirty years, seated in a chair beside a window, with a shawl over her knees. She was in a dressing gown, and her hair hung over her shoulders in two braids. She did not look up or stir as the matron entered, and Mrs. Fraser, after closing the door behind her, presently came out and locked it again.

"I'll show you your room now, Miss Wentworth," she said. "You will be alone on this floor except for Mrs. Dana, but you are not afraid of her?"

"Not in the least. Is she incurable?"

"Yes, quite, poor thing. She has sat in that chair all day for nearly three years."

"And never goes out?"

"Out? No, we don't let her out. It might excite her. But I am not supposed to speak about the cases. It's very sad, though. She comes of a very good family, and they neglected her when she was in trouble, Miss Wentworth, and she's as good as dead to everyone now. She never speaks, but I don't know whether she could. I've never heard her since I came here three years ago. This is the ward. And this is your room."

The open doors along the corridor had revealed clean little rooms with iron bedsteads and plain furniture;

GOVERNOR AND CRABBE ENGAGE IN HOT COMBAT

Controversy Carried On By Exchange of Wire in Judges' Case

Columbus, Oct. 29.—Governor Donahy and Attorney General Crabbe are engaged in a sharp controversy over Dean C. Throckmorton, presiding judge of Columbus municipal court.

The verbal combat is being waged over the wires. Crabbe, from Zanesville, questioned Donahy's claim that there had been no scandal in any state department, to his knowledge, during his administration. The attorney general cited the indictment of Throckmorton by the Franklin county grand jury on charges of accepting bribes while assistant chief of the blue sky department, as one instance.

In his reply, Donahy accused Crabbe of being "the only Republican state candidate that is in league with Harry L. Davis to deceive the people and falsify the records. The Republican committee, I am informed, has given up hope of your election." The governor said he had known nothing of the charges on which Throckmorton was indicted until he read them in the newspapers, asserted Crabbe knew he had "never condoned any wrongdoing on the part of any public employee," and said if Throckmorton is found guilty, no scandal attaches to the administration, "because no effort has been made to cover up or protect wrongdoing."

The attorney general asked whether the governor knew "that this indicted official has admitted under oath that he accompanied the vice president of the protected company to a questionable resort on many occasions and that as high as $150 per night was paid the proprietress for the questionable entertainment of the assistant chief of the blue sky law and his friends."

Donahy replied that he knew nothing of Throckmorton's "personal and private conduct, and that he had no knowledge that Throckmorton ever testified concerning it under oath. "Where did he give the testimony?" the governor asked. "It must have been before the grand jury. I was not a member of the grand jury and did not hear the testimony, as you did when you appeared before it. I thought grand juries were sworn to secrecy, and I never knew that state attorneys appearing before grand juries were supposed to disclose testimony so given in advance of regular trials before subsequent petit juries."

Donahy declared Throckmorton was not appointed presiding judge of Columbus municipal court after he was indicted, "as you insinuate." The governor added: "Before you quit electioneering, tell the voters of your part as the leader of the majority during the Davis legislature in covering up the coal scandal and protecting the guilty parties, also your assistance to Davis in covering up the resignation of his finance director, purchasing agent and assistants, also your successful attempt as majority leader to smother the investigation of the highway department in the Davis legislature and your part in the unsuccessful attempt to pass the Burns bill to cripple workmen's compensation."

At the same time Weymouth Kirkland, representing the Republican national committee, asked that subpoenas be issued for L. E. Sheppard, president of the Order of Railway Conductors, to appear at the Chicago inquiry. He also asked that subpoenas be issued for Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, and other union labor leaders.

Thomas W. White of Boston was called and said he was connected with a local committee engaged in raising funds for the Republican campaign, and that a letter sent out by him produced about $50. Caraway read a letter sent out by the "Calvin Coolidge finance committee." The letter stated "that there is no limit to the amount that can be contributed," and added the contributions would be divided into small amounts.

"Then this committee was going to divide a contribution of $1,000 into 10 parts, with one real man and nine dummies, to get around the law," Senator Caraway remarked.

A letter from E. J. Bliss, president of the Regal Shoe company, pointing out that $500,000 was raised in Massachusetts for the Harding campaign in 1920 and urging a like amount for Coolidge, was read by Walsh.

William L. Mellon, who has charge of raising funds in the "Pittsburgh district," disclosed that Pennsylvania has contributed $620,000 to the Republican campaign fund. Of this amount, the witness said, the "Pittsburgh district" contributed $270,000, and the remainder of the state $350,000.

She saved scores of lives by quieting the panic, and then administered first aid to the injured.

NEW CHINESE WAR IS NOW LOOMING AROUND SHANGHAI

London, Oct. 29.—General Wu Pei Fu has arrived at Tien Tsin where he is concentrating troops for an attack against the army of the Christian general, Feng Yu-Hsiang, who holds Peking, according to advices received by the foreign office this afternoon.

Shanghai, Oct. 29.—Marshal Feng Yu Hsiang's occupation of Peking has stirred the native troops in this vicinity. Victorious and defeated soldiers now are divided on new lines, half supporting Feng and half remaining loyal to Wu Pei Fu. Marshal Chi Shieh Yuan, who defeated Lu Yung Hsiang and took Shanghai after stubborn fighting, was a close ally of Wu Pei Fu. Some of his troops have started for Tien Tsin to aid Wu in retaking Peking, which was seized by Feng's Christian troops last week.

It is reported here that Marshal Feng has been assassinated at Peking. Marshal Chi Shieh Yuan, military governor of Kiangsi, announced in a proclamation that the military governors of Kiangsu, Kiangsi, Anhui, Chekiang and Fukien, and virtually the entire Chinese fleet, have decided to support General Wu Pei Fu. The proclamation denounced General Feng Yuh Siang, the "Christian" general and former governor of Honan province, as a traitor.

HOLT'S PAL ADMITS SLAYING OF SHAKER HEIGHTS POLICEMAN

Cleveland, Oct. 29.—Joseph Prymas is under arrest here charged with the murder of Michael Hahnel, Shaker Heights policeman, 12 days ago. Not only did Prymas confess that he fired the shot in a signed and sworn statement, but he admitted it in a note he left for his "girl," and in a conversation he held with his aged mother, who was summoned by the police.

His arrest, coming just two days after that of his "pal," Albert Holt, was purely by chance. Apparently unable longer to stand the strain when he read of Holt's capture, Prymas drank poison. Persons at his rooming house, hearing groans coming from his room, investigated. They administered antidotes and then called the police. While in a police ambulance Prymas was recognized by Patrolman Clarence May and taken to headquarters. Prymas protested Holt's innocence in the slaying.

Bell was born in 1882. Ferdinand Mayer, first secretary of the legation, will take over Bell's duties for the present.

RECOGNITION BY FRANCE TO NOT AFFECT U. S.

President Declines To Comment On Action of French Government

Recognized Now By Nineteen Countries—Hughes Unchanged

Washington, Oct. 29.—Recognition of soviet Russia by France has not changed the attitude of the United States government toward Russia in any way, it was ascertained today in official circles.

While President Coolidge has declined to comment on France's action and state department officials are reticent to discuss the matter at all it has been definitely ascertained that neither the president nor Secretary of State Hughes have changed their minds concerning the resumption of friendly relations with the Russian Bear.

The principal objection of the administration is not that Russia is controlled by the communists, but is based on the assumption that Russia is sincere in her international relations and will not or cannot carry out her commitments with those states with which it enters into diplomatic agreements.

With the recognition by France the soviet is now recognized in full by nineteen nations and has partial recognition from two others.

Germany was the first to recognize the new nation and since then has been followed by Austria, Denmark, Latvia, Lithuania, Estonia, Afghanistan, Finland, Poland, Persia, Great Britain, Italy, Greece, Mexico, Norway, Sweden and China. Czechoslovakia has a trade agreement with the Reds which is looked upon as de facto recognition and Hungary has completed all but the formalities leading toward the actual exchange of representatives.

The United States, Japanese and Belgium form a little bloc of irreconcilables holding out against Moscow, but there is said to be some possibility that Belgium will now follow the lead of France. Other small nations in central Europe that look to France for diplomatic guidance are also expected to negotiate with Moscow since Paris has resumed friendly relations.

Japan has been negotiating with Moscow for months both at Tokio and at Peking, leaving the United States the only leading power which has adopted a strictly hands off policy concerning Russia.

Russia has exchanged ambassadors with Germany, Italy and Turkey and has also sent an ambassador to China although China is still represented in Moscow by a trade delegation.

Ministers also have been sent to all countries which have recognized the red regime with the exception of Great Britain.

Charge d'affaires Hodgson represents British interests in Russia pending the appointment of an ambassador and Russia's representative in England does not as yet have ministerial rank.

The sending of an ambassador to Peking, completely upsets the political situation in the far east as the Russian envoys rank has always been that of Minister.

The present minister, M. Karahan, is now in conflict with representatives of other powers there on the question of rank no other country has sent an ambassador to China and the doyenish of the diplomatic corps carries important considerations. Russia also upset precedent by appointing Madame Kollontai as minister to Norway, the first woman to hold a diplomatic post.

Although American capitalists have secured a number of concessions in Russia all but three or four have fallen through because of the inability of the concessionaries to meet terms laid down by the Moscow government.

The Sinclair concession in Saghalien, which was the cause of the hitch in negotiations between Russia and Japan, the recently announced American asbestos concession in the Urals and the Harriman concession are the only outstanding American concessions that are still valid and active.

HUSBAND OF WOMAN WHO KILLED HER BABY IS IN CUSTODY-DENIES IMPLICATION OF CRIME

George Tobias is Held as Material Witness—Wife Admits First Time "She is Sorry"—Grand Jury To Investigate

Wooster, O., Oct. 29.—George Tobias, 25 and his wife, Blanche 21, the latter the confessed slayer of her two weeks old baby boy, both occupied cells in the Wayne County Jail today, the husband being brought here last night from Holmesville.

Tobias was arraigned before Mayor M. R. Limb on a charge of failure to provide the necessities of life for his infant child. The charge, Prosecutor J. O. Fritz, admits, is one made merely to hold him.

"I want to have Tobias where I know where he is when the grand jury investigates this case," the prosecutor said today.

His bond was fixed at $1,000 and it was thought improbable that he could furnish it. "I never told Blanche that the baby was not mine," Tobias said in his cell today. "All I know about it is that she told me I was not its father. She told me the same thing about our little girl, who is now more than 2 years old. I never believed her. I don't believe now that she really meant what she said, and I feel sure the child was mine. I never saw Blanche in company with other men and I don't believe she ran around with them."

"Sure I'll do what I can do to help her in this difficulty. I don't know what I can do, but I'll do all I can. I still love her."

Mrs. Tobias last night slightly changed her confession in the case. In her new statement made before witnesses, she implicated her husband directly in the plot to "get rid of the baby." She asserted that at noon last Saturday, the day the child was killed, her husband, while at the infirmary, gave the baby some "medicine" out of a bottle. The bottle she said, contained a red label with the word "poison" on it.

After the medicine had been given, Mrs. Tobias said the baby cried for a time and then slept. Her husband told her, she says, that the "medicine" was to "get rid of the baby," and that if it didn't do she was to finish the job.

Authorities are not inclined to place much credence in her story. Tobias emphatically denies it, declaring that not a word was said during his visit, about getting rid of the child.

Tobias points to the house he had rented at Holmesville, to a cellar stocked with potatoes and fruit, to a sack of hickory nuts he gathered in the woods and other provisions as evidence that he was making good his promise to provide a home for the family as soon as his wife was able to leave the infirmary.

"I'm sorry I killed the baby," Mrs. Tobias said today, admitting for the first time her regret. She still remains apparently oblivious to the enormity of her crime.

Mrs. Tobias first confessed she killed the child because her husband maintained it was not his, and that she did not think he would treat it right if she permitted it to live. She pinched its nose with her right hand and held its throat with her left hand. "It didn't struggle much," she said, "just moved it arms a little. In about three minutes it was dead."

When the woman was questioned about marks her fingers left on its throat, she admitted her guilt.

The babe was buried yesterday in Mt. Zion cemetery in Milton township. During the funeral the wife was in her cell at the jail. She had made no inquiry whatever concerning the disposition of the body.

PRISON STRIKERS ON SHORT DIET

Moundsville, Va., Oct. 29.—The 1,400 convicts who went on a "strike" in the Moundsville penitentiary against extra work have been placed on a "meager" diet, according to Warden S. K. Smith. The prisoners, including 100 women, kept up a terrific din throughout the night, beating on their cell doors, cursing and screaming and threatening guards who attempted to quiet them. Searchlights played on the cell houses until daybreak. Machine guns were mounted on the walls of the prison and special and volunteer police assisted authorities in patrolling the prison.

Warden Smith said he made no effort as yet to put the convicts back to work. The "strike" followed an attempt on the part of the prison authorities to put a longer work day into effect in the garment factory. It was said, and the convicts rebelled. Aside from a lot of noise making, there was no trouble of any kind.

Train Derailed.
Omaha, Neb., Oct. 29.—Seventeen persons were injured when a Rock Island train was derailed at Pawnee City. One coach of the train was badly wrecked. The injured were taken to a local hospital. Cause of the derailment is not known.

Negro Lynched.
Louisville, Oct. 29.—A mob at Presburg, Ky., dragged Kid Shannon, 29, negro, from jail and riddled his body with bullets. Shannon was charged with having killed a white man. Fifteen men were guarding the jail at the time the negro was seized. Chief of Police Vernon Castle said.

Struck by Streetcar.
Cincinnati, Oct. 29.—William Donnelly, 60, of Cleves, O., was killed and Guy Wilkie, 54, also of Cleves, received a fractured skull, when the machine in which they were riding was struck by a streetcar at Lawrenceburg, Ind.

SPELLBINDERS ARE BUSY WARMING UP ELECTION CAMPAIGN

Nominees Are Making Statements as Voting Day Draws Near

Washington, Oct. 29.—With election day only six days away, the presidential campaign continues in much the same manner that has marked it from the start.

John W. Davis, from Democratic national headquarters, issued a statement defining his version of the issues of the campaign, chief of which he contended is: "Shall the attitude of mind of the national administration be one of liberalism or reaction?" Davis is campaigning in New York.

Senator La Follette made another statement attacking the Republican method of collecting campaign contributions. He spoke in Brooklyn last night. Senator Wheeler, vice presidential running mate of La Follette, spent the day campaigning in Michigan, after which he will move eastward for the final days.

President Coolidge told friends every indication seemed to point to the election of the Republican national ticket, and he is making all his plans accordingly. While he indicated he had not decided definitely to vote by mail, he is planning to do so rather than to make a trip to Northampton, Mass., to cast his ballot.

Spellbinders of the three parties are trying to warm up the campaign in Ohio and other midwestern states during the closing days of the campaign.

Should no presidential candidate be able to muster a majority in the electoral college, the house of representatives will be called upon for the third time in history to select a chief executive. The constitution provides that the house make its selection from the candidates receiving the three highest votes in the college, and that the senate choose a vice president from the two having the highest number of votes in the college.

The present congress, the Sixty-eighth, will be the congress to decide the election should it become necessary. In the balloting for president in the house, each state is entitled to one vote, this vote to be cast according to the will of the majority of representatives of each state.

Necessary for the choice of a president in the house is a vote of 25 states. It is argued that if representatives vote according to party affiliation, a deadlock would be sure to ensue.

In the senate, in balloting for vice president, a majority of the whole number of senators is necessary for a choice, and there the balance of power is generally regarded as held by insurgents. Should the house fail to make a selection before March 4, the vice president, whom the senate would be called upon to elect in the event of a deadlock in the electoral college, would automatically become president.

WORKMEN ARE DEAD FROM INHALING GAS

Elizabeth, N. J., Oct. 29.—The death list from inhaling gas at the research laboratory at the Bayway plant of the Standard Oil company has risen to three, with more than a dozen others in hospitals. William McSweeney is the latest victim.

Five more men employed in the laboratory were removed to hospitals in New York. This makes a known total of 11 men suffering from the "crazy" gas in addition to the five who went insane, three of whom have died. State officials began an investigation independent of the one being conducted by county officials.

CITY OF XENIA MADE DEFENDANT IN SUIT FOR $10,000 DAMAGES

The City of Xenia has been named defendant in a suit for $10,000 damages filed in Common Pleas Court by Fred Fox through his attorney Daniel Nevins, as a result of injuries alleged to have been received on the night of August 16, 1924, when Clay Phipps, a special patrolman, in attempting to arrest him, struck him over the head with his mace, breaking his club, and inflicting serious injuries.

The plaintiff charges that the defendant had employed Phipps as a special officer, without his taking a civil service examination, without requiring him to furnish bond, or without making an investigation into his record regarding his capability to serve as a patrolman.

According to the petition, on the night of August 16, about 10 o'clock, the plaintiff was walking along Deane Street, when Phipps accosted him, and made an attempt to take him to Police Headquarters, when the plaintiff had not violated any law.

The plaintiff alleges that Phipps brutally assaulted him with his mace, striking him on the head with such force as to break the mace, and a large cut was made in his forehead, knocking him to the ground and severely injuring him.

The plaintiff charges that while he was on the ground, Phipps stood over him with a revolver in his hand, threatening to blow his brains out, and when the plaintiff had recovered sufficiently to regain his feet and started toward his home, Phipps shot at him.

The plaintiff claims that because of injuries inflicted upon him by Phipps, he had to be taken to a hospital, and is still receiving medical attention, and has been unable to work since the assault, and by reason of the injuries asks $10,000 damages.

SHERIFF SUED FOR DAMAGES

Morris Sharp, sheriff of Greene County, is named defendant with The Fidelity and Deposit Company of Maryland, his bonding company, in a suit for $10,000 damages filed in Common Pleas Court Tuesday afternoon by Samuel LeRoy Bear, through his attorney, Daniel Nevins, of Dayton. Bear was shot in the leg by a member of a sheriff's posse February 25, 1924, while he was being arrested for possessing liquor. He was afterward convicted of the offense, and served several months in the County Jail on sentence, being released last June.

The plaintiff declares that when he ran away he was shot in the leg by an officer and alleges that he is permanently crippled.

DONAHEY WORRIED BY BRICK PLANT DEAL

Governor Vic Donahey, Democratic candidate to succeed himself, is worried over the Republican charge that the purchase of the Roseville brick plant was a "$25,000 gold brick" handed the state of Ohio to favor a certain contractor.

The story has been made public by the Country Press Association, through the Western Newspaper Union. Importance was attached to the yarn only after the Governor became alarmed at its circulation to the extent of threatening suit if printed.

A telegram received from the executive by the Gazette and Republican says the story is libelous and that newspapers publishing the story would be held responsible. The telegram is as follows:

"If story and cut entitled: 'Here's Donahey's $25,000 gold brick,' has been furnished you this is to inform you it is libelous throughout and I will hold your newspaper responsible if the story is printed. Vic Donahey, Governor."

MONEY AT WORK

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments

"Castles in Spain" are fun to build, but if they get too spacious and elaborate they will be of little help in the word of realities.

Most of us are still working on our first million and success comes to the person who keeps his financial imagination just the right number of laps ahead in the race for the lead.

The man or woman who dreams of rebuilding the world or of becoming a millionaire overnight or of making a revolutionizing invention is apt to be left by the wayside. Instead of dreaming castles, set your imagination at the problems of tomorrow's job. How to tackle that stiff customer; what to do with that past due account; or how to feed the family on what is left of this week's food allowance. Those are problems enough for anybody. Solve those before you try something bigger.

There isn't a line of this above but what we all know by heart.

But if we practiced what we know we would each be richer and happier than we now are. Think it over.

Then tackle—and solve—your nearest financial riddle.

Mrs. Emily Childs, of East Church Street, left Tuesday night for Montclair, N. J., to make her home with her daughter. Mrs. Childs has resided in Xenia about a year.

and then go to Minneapolis, Minn., to attend children's clinics. He will return by way of Chicago where he will visit the children's hospital and clinics. He will be gone a week or ten days.

THE WHITE HOUSE ENTERTAINS A PARTY OF ACTOR-FOLKS TO BREAKFAST

Quoting from the publication "Time": "Early one bright morning, Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge stood on their threshold. Up drove automobiles, old piled two-score laughing, talkative guests. Everyone shook hands and then Mrs. Coolidge said: "Let's go in to breakfast." Immediately the President offered his arm to a tall, deep-voiced blonde young lady named Charlotte Greenwood and led the party into the state dining-room. Mr. Coolidge took the arm of a dignified gentleman named Colonel Rhinelander Waldo, then spied a smiling man called Al Jolson and took his arm as well. Said she: "I want two partners for this occasion."

Soon the Executive Mansion "rang with merriment." Within three minutes the President's lips were parted, his teeth showed, his mouth opened, he laughed outright. The guests were delegates of the Coolidge Non-Partisan League, actor-folk, come to assure the President their support next month.

The pancakes dispatched, the coffee finished, all strolled to the White House lawn, where Mr. Hitchcock continued to talk until all the guests and a band, burst into a new campaign song written by Mr. Jolson. The burden of this song that it would be wise and appropriate to keep Mr. Coolidge in the Presidential chair for the reasons that: "Without a lot of fuss he did a lot for us" and "He's never asleep; still water runs deep."

Mr. Coolidge's Cabinet was waiting, so the party dispersed and said "thank you." Mr. Jolson said: "I ate everything in sight but the sausage."

"Does that include the doilies?" asked Mrs. Coolidge. "No," said Mr. Jolson. "I have those in my pocket."

WORDS OF WARNING

The National Association of Manufacturers has 5,000 members and 312 separate manufacturers' associations with 100,000 members are affiliated with it. Its combined membership manufactures 80 per cent of the total industrial output of the United States—about $50,000,000,000—pays 80 per cent of the wages received by the industrial workers of the country, and 30 per cent of all taxes received by the Government.

This great association was born in Cincinnati. It held its latest meeting in this city—the first meeting outside New York in years. Its President had something to say with reference to present political and business conditions. He warned his hearers and the public that if by any contingency La Follette should win, or the election be thrown into Congress, the country would suffer the greatest industrial calamity in its history.

This is the voice of $50,000,000,000 speaking—speaking to business and labor of Cincinnati, of every city. It asks, in effect, if the country desires to risk industrial chaos, financial disaster, social confusion and political disruption, or whether it desires a continuance of business and labor conditions according to the formula of sound government and sound economics. —Cincinnati Enquirer, Oct. 27.

FOUGHT VALIANTLY AGAINST ENTANGLING ALLIANCES

Senator Brandegee, of Connecticut, was one of the most irreconcilable of the "Bitter-Enders" who fought the League of Nations in the United States Senate. His influence in the Senate Foreign Relations Committee was hardly less than that of its chairman Senator Lodge. With Borah, of Idaho; Johnson, of California; Moses of New Hampshire, and McCormick, of Illinois, Frank B. Brandegee broke down the Wilsonian world program. He was chairman of the Judiciary committee and a figure of power in a Senate where he had served for almost twenty years. No man ever fought more consistently to maintain the sovereignty of the United States and its freedom from compromising and entangling alliances. He was one of the "Battalion of Death", one of the "Old Guard." He lived a lonely life and died a lonely death. His troubles of age and financial reverses came to be too great to be borne and he took his own way out of life. He leaves behind a tangled political situation, and his passing further complicates the possibilities that may arise in case the national election is thrown into a deadlocked Congress.

THE WILSON INFLUENCE THERE YET

The Republican primary in New Jersey brought out a very heavy vote. In the 1919 State election 202,976 ballots were cast by Republicans. In the 1920 national elections more than 600,000 Republicans voted for Harding. This year about 475,000 Jersey voters turned out for the Republican primary, and the majority of Senator Edge over National Committeeman Hamilton F. Kean for the senatorial nomination was upward of 50,000. It was a bitter campaign, with a fighting finish, in which wets, drays, liberals and the Klan were all entangled. The American Federation of Labor, forgetting its pledged troth to LaFollette, got in the melee. Senator Edge has won by a vote and a majority that should insure a united party behind him in November. Despite the fact that he will be opposed by a Democrat, a LaRolletteista and an Anti-Saloon League candidate, there is not much likelihood of the Republicans losing their one Senator from New Jersey.

A CITY STREET

A city street
Where hurrying feet
Move ever up and down;
Where day by day
Men seek the way
To fortune and renown.

And some are bound
For higher ground,
And some for bleak despair;
And some for fame,
And some for shame,
And some an hour of prayer.

And some are strong
That move along,
And some are pale and weak;
And some are gaunt
With care and want,
And some are snug and sleek.

When these are gone
More will come on
To tread the self-same way;
And they will be
Like you and me
Who walk the street today.

They, too, will strive
To keep alive,
They, too, will rise and fall;
And God above
Will shed his love

And mercy on them all.

So view the throng
Which moves along
To pleasure or to trade;
From these you meet
Upon the street
In time are angels made.

Xenia Lodge of Elks announces that it has closed contracts and made all arrangements to give the people the best musical production ever before seen at the local Opera House this coming Thanksgiving eve and night.

The Xenia High School football team was defeated for the second time by Washington C. H. Saturday, at the local field, when Washington won by a score of 11 to 6.

Great enthusiasm prevailed at a Republican meeting at the Opera House Saturday afternoon and fine addresses were continually interrupted by bursts of applause and rousing cheers.

A small freight wreck on the C. H. and D. which occurred about 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon, a few miles this side of Chillicothe caused the wrecking crew from Dayton considerable trouble.

Now add to it one teaspoon of vanilla, one-half cup of chopped nut meats, and one tablespoon each of chopped candied pineapple, chopped preserved ginger and chopped dates, raisins, or dried currents may be substituted if desired. Easily-Made Fondant: Put the white of one egg in a bowl and add enough powdered sugar to make stiff; add a few drops of either vanilla extract or lemon juice, then cut off small pieces of this fondant, roll them in more powdered or confectioners' sugar, shape them round with your fingers and press a half walnut meat on top of each. Use a little uncooked eggyolk to color these candies yellow if desired. Or use a little melted chocolate or cocoa-powder to color them brown. Red vegetable coloring matter may also be used.

Cream Candy: Boil together two and one-half cups of granulated sugar and one-half cup of water; when this is clear, add one-half cup of sweet cream so slowly that the candy will not stop boiling, and let it continue to boil till a little is brittle when dropped into cold water (or, if you are using a candy Fahrenheit thermometer, stop cooking when 209 degrees are registered). Now pour it out onto a buttered platter, put one teaspoon of vanilla extract on top of it and one cup of any kind of nut-meats finely chopped, let cool, then pull it till white and firm. Cut into pieces. Standing for a week in an airtight container makes it very creamy. This is fine candy for a child's "candy pull" party. It is not hard to make, and the children will enjoy pulling it.

"Fruit Fudge: Put into a large saucepan two cups of granulated sugar, two heaping tablespoons of butter, and one cup of cream, and let

STEP OUT!

There wouldn't be much to this world without its rank and file. On the other hand, there wouldn't be much of a rank and file if somebody didn't step out every once in a while and run ahead.

George M. Cohan says that the great man is he who does the original thing, who steps out and demonstrates that he is able to handle the unusual situation.

To me Chicago is one of the most inspiring cities in America. I would say the world, but I have not been around the world as yet. Also I do not live in Chicago.

But it wasn't very long ago that a group of far seeing men in Chicago dreamed a dream of a beautiful city. And so they drew a picture of it. Beautiful avenues and lovely buildings were drawn to take place of narrow streets, impassable situations and old rickety buildings.

In less than twenty years the city has been partly rebuilt. Whole streets have been widened and great avenues have appeared. The great Lake Michigan has been coaxed to back up and new water drives have appeared. A marvelous museum and the greatest artificial municipal stadium in the world has been built where once the waves washed the shore.

Before long the greatest water front and park drive in the world will be completed. Such enterprise is an inspiration for the entire world.

But those men of vision had to step out. They had to fight opposition. They had to produce the goods. I like the "step out" men. Just fix the names of a few in your mind: Edison, Ford, Rockefeller, Steinmetz, Harriman.

Mr. Miller, who is the general manager of The Detroit News, told me the story of a commissioner of public works who was building sewers. He became uneasy because it took so much time and money. So he invented a new piece of machinery that did about twenty times the amount of work.

Be a rank and file until you know the rank and file. Then, my friend, step out!

GEOFFREY O'HARA IS ENTERTAINING IN TALK TO KIWANIS

Geoffrey O'Hara, noted musician, composer, chautauqua lecturer, and author of the world famous "K-K-Katy" in an address punctuated with witty stories and musical selections, entertained forty-five members of the local Kiwanis Club at their regular meeting Tuesday night at the Elks' Lodge, with a clever explanation and demonstration of the real value of music.

Opening his talk with a song, which he said he had dedicated to the Prince of Wales, and which he called "Give a Man a Horse He Can Ride," Mr. O'Hara reverted to the theme of his address, "The Economic Value of Music," stressing the point that music is a vital factor in human lives, and its introduction to the child of under seven years of age. He urged that children under seven years of age be given an opportunity of learning old familiar tunes in their homes and in the schools, because of the influence the proper kind of music has on human life.

In support of his statement he pointed out that an investigation he had conducted in a girls' reformatory in the East, revealing the fact that one of the inmates there had had the opportunity of listening to music before they were seven years of age. The old music and songs learned at home will recall later in life home associations and memories which give the child of yesterday something to tie to later in life, he said.

"Music," said Mr. O'Hara, "materially aids in the equalization of the two creative forces in each individual—the mental and the physical. These forces should be balanced, and one will run away with the other, and where music has been absent in the early life of the child the physical force may overshadow the mental often with disastrous consequences."

"It will save this country billions of dollars and many lives if good songs are learned before seven years of age," he said. "The case of Loeb and Leopold is a sample of this. This case it is estimated, cost the community a half million dollars."

Completing his address Mr. O'Hara gave a demonstration of a reproducing piano furnished by the Anderson Piano Company of this city. The demonstration took the form of a conversation with the piano in which questions of Mr. O'Hara were answered by various air play on the piano. The demonstration ended by Mr. O'Hara singing his latest composition "Dreaming of My Old Home Sweet Home."

Roy Hayward was in charge of the early part of the meeting, and led the singing. Following the meeting the members of the club and their wives were guests of the Standard Amusement Company at the performance of "Able's Irish Rose" at the Opera House.

The meeting of the club next week will be held on Wednesday instead of Tuesday because of election night falling on Tuesday.

Mrs. L. R. Robertson, secretary of the Social Service League was called to Wyoming, near Cincinnati, Tuesday by news of the death of her brother who has been an invalid for some time. Miss Rita Kennedy of West Second Street, entered St. Elizabeth Hospital, Dayton, Tuesday, where she will undergo a second operation Thursday for the removal of goitre. The operation is to be performed by Dr. W. A. T. Ryan, a specialist.

Miss Gertrude Walsh, of West Main Street, will undergo an operation for the removal of goitre, Thursday at St. Elizabeth Hospital, Dayton. Dr. W. A. T. Ryan, will perform the operation.

ADDITIONAL AMERICAN MARINES LANDED TO PROTECT FOREIGN COLONIES IN CHINA

Tien Tsin, Oct. 28.—Two hundred additional American marines were landed today from the U. S. S. Huron to assist in the defense of the foreign settlements threatened by China's latest civil war. The American civilian residents are forming a volunteer company to assist in defense in such a step becomes necessary.

Wu Pei Fu, ousted head of the central government's military organization, who is struggling to regain control of Peking, today requested permission from the foreign consulates to remain in Tien Tsin for a few days but it is believed this would contravene the Boxer protocol.

Wu Pei Fu's troops continue to pour through this city from Ching Wang-tao continuing in the direction of Peking. Advice from Peking indicates that Feng Yu Hsiang, whose coup wrested Peking from Wu's control, is preparing to attack Wu's forces at

SALE IS APPROVED
In the case of Mary Lang, administratrix, against Luzern Murphy, in Common Pleas Court, the court has approved the sale of the property to George Boedeker for $1,920 and decided that the remaining $1,739.53, left after payment of debts, should be applied on the account of the plaintiff, as administratrix of the estate. The court also decided that there is still due the plaintiff $2,592.93 on the account, and ordered that the plaintiff recover that amount from the defendant as administratrix of the estate of Peter Lang, deceased.

WANTS PARTITION
Ethel Snodgrass has filed suit for partition of property against Alvin Hargrave, C. O. Hargrave, L. E. Hargrave, Emmaline Hargrave, widow of John M. Hargrave, deceased, and Fred Yove, in Common Pleas Court.

The plaintiff alleges that Emmaline Hargrave as widow of the deceased, is entitled dower in the estate left by John Hargrave, father of the defendants. The property left by the deceased is valued at between $1,500 and $2,000.

The plaintiff claims that the defendants, C. O. Hargrave, L. E. Hargrave, and Alvin Hargrave, and herself have lawful right to a one-fourth interest in the estate, and charges that Alvin Hargrave was indebted to the plaintiff's father in the sum of $6,829.009, and that L. E. Hargrave had received advances from his father's estate to the extent of $2,000.

The plaintiff asks that the court determine the sums due L. E. Hargrave and Alvin Hargrave, and the amount each owe their father's estate and what amount should be deducted from their interest in the estate of their deceased father and be charged with these debts.

The plaintiff claims that the defendant, Fred Love, claims a prior mortgage on the interest of Alvin Hargrave in the estate and avers that he has no interest and could not execute a valid mortgage.

The plaintiff asks that partition be made, or the property appraised and her interest set off to her in severalty.

POLICE RECOVER STOLEN MACHINE

James Marshall, of this city, was the victim of what was probably a Halloween prank, Tuesday night, when his Ford touring car, parked in front of J. A. Finney's residence, South Detroit Street, was stolen, he reported at Police Headquarters. Although the machine was recovered early Wednesday morning by Patrolman Charles Simms, parked and abandoned on Shepherd Street, the mystery has not been cleared up, and the "practical jokers" are still at large.

KIDS GET GATE
Another "practical joke" was played, probably by kids, it was thought, Tuesday night, with H. S. Smith, of 137 East Third Street as the victim. The iron gate, attached to the fence that surrounds his residence, had been removed from its hinges, Smith reported to police and has not been recovered.

FIRE CHIEF SWORN IN AS POLICEMAN

Fire Chief T. B. Claiborne has been sworn in by Police Judge E. D. Smith, as a special policeman for the purpose of preventing interference at fires, and to co-operate with the Police Department in approaching violations of the law such as running in front of the fire apparatus and chasing the trucks to and from fires, according to an announcement by Judge Smith Tuesday.

"There are many violations of the law during the excitement which attends a fire," declared Judge Smith, "such as driving too close to the fire trucks, driving over the fire hose, parking automobiles and other vehicles too close to the scene of the fire, interfering with the firemen, and other things that handicap the firemen."

Chief Claiborne will now have the authority to stop these violations or arrest the violators, according to Judge Smith.

Chief Claiborne will also be furnished with a badge as an insignia of his authority.

WEST VIRGINIA MAY CLAIM ORIGIN OF POE'S "THE RAVEN"

Huntington, W. Va., Oct. 29.—Did Edgar Allan Poe pen his masterpiece, "The Raven," in West Virginia? This question is the central topic of discussion in literary circles throughout the State.

In fact, a number of literary societies have announced they will conduct a joint campaign shortly to prove that Poe wrote his immortal poem, while exiled at "Ravenscroft," a picturesque estate in the Kanawha Valley near here.

The visit of Poe to Mrs. Elizabeth Tompkins, mistress of Ravenscroft, and sister to his godmother, in Baltimore, heretofore has been regarded as mere tradition.

Now, however, it is asserted that Poe actually did visit Ravenscroft and there was inspired by his surroundings to compose his famous poem.

Recently the entire estate was purchased by a wealthy Kanawha valley mine operator, and the house, closed for many years, was opened again.

While exploring his new possession the new owner, whose name was withheld, was said to have discovered, in the attic, a dust-covered box containing six casts of ravens. They were bought by the master of Ravenscroft to decorate the mansion following the success of the poem written by young Poe while a guest in the house, according to the story.

Ravenscroft was the center of an enormous plantation, which retained more than 100 slaves. The mansion was erected in 1832 on the Kanawha River. Located on a slight rise of ground, it commanded a brilliant panoramic view of the surrounding hills and the blue river in the distance.

Despite its grandeur, however, it was a melancholy place and considered the wilds of Southwestern Virginia.

Poe, following a wild escapade in Baltimore, was exiled there by his relatives and came reluctantly, for it was Autumn and the leaves had already begun to fall from the trees, accentuating the melancholy aspect of the place, far removed from the then existing centers of population.

However, he was welcomed so hospitably that he spent the Winter there, during that time, wrote "The Raven," while under the charm of the sad environment of the stately mansion.

In the Spring, in honor of the success of the poem, the master of Ravenscroft ordered casts of six ravens. One clung with its talons to the crest above the door. Another stood above the sideboard in the dining room. A third was in the hallway and one was used over the fireplace in the living room. The other two found places in the master's bedroom and in the room which had been occupied by the brilliant young poet.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Terrell and baby daughter, Betty Jean of Cincinnati, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Robert Terrell of Hill Street.

REPUBLICAN WOMEN WILL MEET FRIDAY

Miss Helen Dodds, Greene County chairman of Republican women, is announcing a meeting for Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, in the Common Pleas Court Room at the Court House.
Mrs. Lillian Burt from Republican Headquarters, is to be the speaker. She will speak on the campaign issues.
All women are invited to be present.

WIVES ARE WORTH THE TROUBLE SAYS MUCH WED MONARCH

London, Oct. 29.—"Wives are worth all the trouble they cause," Thus speaks the Emir of Katsina, dusky potentate of Nigeria. The Emir should know because he has no less than four wives and twenty concubines.

The Emir has come to London, with only one wife in attendance upon him, and he doesn't have to ponder long to reach the conclusion that wives are NOT more bother than they are worth. Arrayed in flowing robes of blue, red and green, and bearing the sceptre symbolic of his power, the Emir, surrounded by his chiefs, consented to be interviewed in a fashionable London hotel, for the benefit and education of the Northern press.

An interpreter was a necessity. The interviewer rather cautiously suggested that the Emir might be willing to discuss his harem, but the interpreter refused to even question the Emir, but admitted that the Emir wanted the world to know that wives were worth all the trouble they caused.

"Why?" queried the inquisitive interviewer.

The Emir rolled his eyes and responded. The interpreter said that the Emir said:

"Wives are worth trouble only because they work. In Katsina they must spin so much cotton each day, and they must do so much housework. And they are unpaid."

"Three of them began the great journey with me, but only one of them dared the ordeal of the railway train. The others caused me all the expense of motoring them 100 miles to the railroad and then refused to come further, despite my protestations. I was gravely disappointed."

"The only one who was brave enough to continue with me was a young girl. She is the well-bred daughter of a mighty emir, and intelligent as well."

Here the Emir was questioned about wives being troublesome.

"Yes," replied the Emir after thought. "Sometimes they are troublesome. But then when wives quarrel a little or are jealous a little, we call them up in front of us and tell them not to do it again. That I usually enough."

The Emir explained that divorce is easy in Katsina and wives need only be told to go and they are considered divorced and this makes discipline easy. Perhaps the Emir doesn't find wives as troublesome as Northern husbands and perhaps that's why he feels that "wives are worth all the trouble they cause."

Mr. and Mrs. John Holland, and Mrs. Mary Vetter were the guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Bagford, of Spring Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Garland Bagford and daughter Louise, of Springfield were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Bagford, of Spring Valley, Sunday.

MODISH MITZI—Mitzi Helps Eleanor Buy Sport Clothes

By Jay V. Jay

Eleanor considers sports a serious matter and nothing about them more serious than their clothes. She takes Mitzi along shopping because in this weighty problem two head ears better than one. This coat is not a coat. It is a cape with sleeves, has a racoon collar, and is the smartest of new topcoats.

Good to the last stitch! This is the sort of suit that never goes out of style, thinks Eleanor. It is of khaki brown covert cloth, has large patch pockets, a belt and wide tailored lapels. It's good for every outdoor occasion and Adelaide will wear it with that principle well in mind.

This tailored coat, that Eleanor wears, while not exactly and precisely a sport coat, is simple enough to be correct for the country as well as for street wear in town. It is trimmed with a collar and cuff-bands of gray opossum. Its only other decoration is stitched bands of the fabric.

The plain tailored suit of the season follows these lines. The coat is fairly long, nearly three quarter length, and the suit is quite untrimmed. The lapels are oddly cut and the coat is a double breasted model. There are pockets on the sides of the coat. The skirt is plain.

SATURDAY NIGHT TO SEE FINAL MEET OF REPUBLICAN DRIVE

The grand closing rally of the Republican county campaign will be held at Yellow Springs Saturday evening at the Opera House, and will be featured by addresses by Senator Simeon D. Fess, of Yellow Springs, Charles L. Knight, of Akron, newspaper publisher, and Mrs. William R. Rockel, of Springfield, member of the state Republican Central Committee.

The address by Senator Fess should be of principal interest in view of the fact that he will be addressing his own townspeople, in his closing campaign speech of the year in behalf of the Republican party.

The speech by Knight, former congressman and a potent factor in Republican politics, will be one of those in a short "stumping" tour which Mr. Knight is making at the personal request of President Coolidge, in the interest of the Republican party.

The speaker bears a reputation for making political addresses which possess a "kick" and which are different in style from the stereotyped generalities which are frequently heard from a political orator. Mr. Knight does not come to Yellow Springs with the label of "orator" but rather with the label of a speaker who "says something" when he talks, and who "tramps on toes" when he remarks.

feels that the occasion calls for such. Mr. Knight has never addressed a Greene County audience. He is publisher of the Springfield Sun and the HFMH-vducvxA Harkon the man in the Akron Beacon-Journal and was runner-up to Carmel Thompson in the Republican gubernatorial primary of two years ago.

Mrs. William G. Rockel, the third speaker, who has been delivering speeches in behalf of her party throughout the campaign, several to Greene County audiences, will direct her remarks mainly to the women voters.

L. T. Marshall, chairman of the Greene County Republican Executive Committee, will preside at the meeting as chairman.

The rally is scheduled for 8 o'clock and will be preceded by a short entertainment at the residence of Senator Fess.

Special music by band at the residence of Senator Fess, from 6 to 7:30 o'clock will precede the rally, to which everyone is invited. Sandwiches, doughnuts and coffee will be served.

Tuesday night at the Opera House at Jamestown, Congressman Charles Brand, of Urbana, addressed a large and enthusiastic meeting of Republican voters and supporters, and detailed the main issues of the campaign, not forgetting the tariff question, and outlining the industrial conditions both in the western part of the country and in Europe, where he spent several months for that express purpose.

Dr. W. R. McChesney, president of Cedarville College, and Republican supporter, was unable to attend the Jamestown rally, and the speech by Congressman Brand was the only feature of the meeting.

FARM ELEVATORS' MANAGERS TO MEET

A meeting of all managers of farm-elevators in Greene County, together with one representative of the board of directors of each company, will be held at the Xenia Farmers' Elevator, West Main Street, Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock.

The meeting is being called to perfect a county-wide organization and to discuss the advisability of employing a county-service man in the interest of the elevator companies.

An informal discussion will be held.

MANY ARE USING ABSENT VOTERS BALLOTS THIS WEEK

The absent ballot total is mounting up according to Earl Short, clerk of the board of Elections, who declared that up to and including Monday, October 27, 162 licensed voters had either voted by mail or at the clerk's office in the Court House.

It is not known whether the large total creates a precedent for the first two weeks that the ballots are available, but it may safely be said that the total should rival that of the last presidential election, and far exceed the primary vote.

During the first week that the slips could be had, but thirty-five citizens availed themselves of the privilege, but the total picked up during the next week, until almost twice as many had used the slips of paper.

The ballots are for those voters who will be away from the city on election day, Tuesday, November 4, and all licensed voters may either have the ballot mailed to them, after first making application by giving their name, residence, and present address, that the clerk may know in which precinct they belong, or vote directly at the clerk's office.

Ballots will be available until Saturday noon, but all ballots in the mails addressed to the Board of Elections before Saturday night will be counted.

HERE AND THERE

Rev. E. O. Jones, leader of the Ku Klux Klan, was sentenced at Fairmont, W. Va., to five years in the penitentiary following conviction on charges of conspiracy in connection with the shooting of Dan Washington, a negro.

Three unidentified bodies were found in the ruins of a five story building which was destroyed by fire at Detroit.

James F. White, charged at Indianapolis with transporting liquor, was given three days of freedom to attend the funeral of his 7-year-old son killed in a school bus accident at Lorain, Ohio.

Leslie Campbell, 22, aviator of Madison, S. D., was killed less than five minutes after he set out on his initial venture as a seaplane pilot, when his seaplane fell into Lake Michigan.

ECZEMA

You will be compelled to admit that the results of S.S.S. are really amazing!

MANY people imagine that eczema or better needs only some external application on the skin in order to get relief. This is because the attention of the sufferer is so violently directed to the intense burning and itching which accompanies this disease. Try as they may—permanent relief will never be theirs until the diseased blood is thoroughly cleansed.

We know there is one thing that stops eczema and that is more red-blood-cells! S.S.S. builds them by the million! You can increase your red-blood-cells to the point where it is practically impossible for eczema to exist. We know that as blood-cells increase in number, blood impurities vanish! We also know that night follows day. Both are facts! But have you, eczema sufferers, ever actually taken advantage of this wonderful fact? Thousands just like you have never thought about it. Skin eruptions, eczema, with all its fiery, skin digging torture, and its scurfy, unbearable itching, pimples, blackheads and boils, they all pick up and go, when the tide of blood-cells begins to roll in! Blood-cells are the fighting giants of Nature! S.S.S. builds them by the million! It has been doing it since 1826.

S.S.S. is one of the greatest blood-cell builders, blood-cleansers and body strengtheners known to us mortals! When you put these facts together, then to continue to have eczema and skin eruptions looks more like a sin than a disease. S.S.S. contains only vegetable medicinal ingredients. Because S.S.S. does build red-blood-cells, it rids eczema, clears the skin, builds firm flesh, fills out hollow cheeks, and gives you that more up and going appearance.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

Complexion better than ever before

Embarrassing eruption had resisted many treatments

Milwaukee, Wis., May 12—"A year ago I had a very ugly and embarrassing itching rash on my chin. I tried so many different treatments on it which did little good, that finally I became discouraged. The druggist one day recommended Resinol Soap and I decided to try it and after using it less than one week, the itching and burning ceased. I thought if the soap alone could bring such relief, then the Resinol Ointment must certainly clear away the trouble entirely. After applying it for three nights, you can imagine how delighted I was to find the rash all gone, with not even a trace of redness left. I now keep Resinol Ointment within reach at all times—would not be without it. I find it very economical to use, as a little goes a long way. I have used Resinol Soap daily and will continue to do so. My complexion today is better than ever before, has a healthy glow and, in fact, is all that it should be—thanks to your wonderful Resinol Soap and Ointment." (Signed) Mrs. J. BRINGING UP FATHER

The Truant Soul

By Victor Rousseau

The girl, after a moment's hesitation, preceded Mrs. Fraser into the building. She saw a long corridor, with a number of doors on either side, and the stairs in front of her.

"You would like to see the building, Miss Wentworth?" asked the matron. "Or perhaps you are tired and would prefer to go to your room."

"No, I should like to see it. Have you many patients?"

"Only Mrs. Dana. She's always here, you know. There was a boy with a broken arm, but he left this morning. In winter, though, we're often crowded. It isn't much of a place, Miss Wentworth, but we do a little good. This is the doctor's apartment. He sleeps here; next door is the clinic, and next to that the operating room. Here we keep the supplies. This is my room. Mr. Myers, the secretary, has his room opposite the doctor's. This is the dining room, and here is the kitchen. Now I'll show you your room upstairs, Miss Wentworth."

The corridor above was a series of the one below. At the head of the stairs a little passage branched off toward a large window in the wall, with a door to one side of it.

"Mrs. Dana occupies this room," said the matron. "Perhaps the doctor mentioned her?"

"Doctor Lancaster said something—"

"She is out of her mind, poor woman, but she is perfectly quiet. You see, Miss Wentworth, she is like an infant mentally. She will not trouble you. Excuse me a moment."

She drew a key from the bunch that hung at her waist and unlocked the door very softly, and with a certain furtiveness, Joan thought. Looking in, the girl saw a strikingly handsome woman of about seven and thirty years, seated in a chair beside a window, with a shawl over her knees. She was in a dressing gown, and her hair hung over her shoulders in two braids. She did not look up or stir as the matron entered, and Mrs. Fraser, after closing the door behind her, presently came out and locked it again.

"I'll show you your room now, Miss Wentworth," she said. "You will be alone on this floor except for Mrs. Dana, but you are not afraid of her?"

"Not in the least. Is she incurable?"

"Yes, quite, poor thing. She has sat in that chair all day for nearly three years."

"And never goes out?"

"Out? No, we don't let her out. It might excite her. But I am not supposed to speak about the cases. It's very sad, though. She comes of a very good family, and she neglected her when she was in trouble, Miss Wentworth, and she's as good as dead to everyone now. She never speaks, but I don't know whether she could. I've never heard her since I came here three years ago. This is the ward. And this is your room."

The open doors along the corridor had revealed clean little rooms with iron bedsteads and plain furniture;

the room at the end of the passage, however, was well furnished, with a heavy new carpet and old mahogany furniture. Outside the window, through the twilight, appeared the distant mountains.

Joan, turning, was surprised to see Mrs. Fraser watching her intently. As their eyes met the matron lowered her own in some confusion. There was a furtiveness about her glance that momentarily revived Joan's uneasiness. It was a strange journey, and Doctor Lancaster's behavior had been strange. Then there was the man Myers. Joan felt a sudden sinking of the heart; she was almost regretful that she had come.

A colored maid brought up her suitcase.

"This is Lucy," said the matron. "She will do anything you tell her. She sleeps overhead in the attic. And my room is underneath," she added; "so if you should want anything at any time, just tap on the radiator, and I'll come up at once. And supper will be ready as soon as you are."

In the hall Joan found Mrs. Fraser, ten minutes later, talking to the secretary.

"Miss Wentworth, this is Mr. Myers," she began.

"We've met already," said Myers, scrutinizing her closely. He seemed now to wear the same furtive air as Mrs. Fraser; it seemed part of the atmosphere of the institution. Joan had perceived it in the coachman, too.

"Miss Wentworth is to have charge of the nursing under Doctor Jenkins," said Mrs. Fraser.

"I hope I shan't conflict with—" began Joan doubtfully.

"Not at all, not at all," said Myers, speaking with false heartiness. "I hope we shall all get along well together."

Joan refused to face the problem of Myers' undoubted hostility. She went into the dining room, and found to her relief that the table was only laid for one.

"Mr. Myers has had supper?" she asked.

"You are to have your meals alone, Miss Wentworth," answered the matron.

"But I should not wish—"

"It is the doctor's orders," said Mrs. Fraser, in a tone of finality.

Coming in with the dessert, Mrs. Fraser found her nodding at the table. The girl had begun to feel an intense fatigue after the all-day journey. She began to realize, too, that her work at the hospital had been harder than she had known.

"I believe I shall go straight to bed," she said.

"The best thing you can do, Miss Wentworth. Everybody feels sleepy when they first arrive here. It's the hill air. You must rest well, Miss Wentworth, and please remember it's you who give the orders."
